State Private Enterprise And Economic Change In Egypt 1918-1952:

Trade and Enterprise Gad Gilbar, 2022-10-31 Until recently the historiography of Middle Eastern economic elites during the first globalization has ignored the significant role played by Muslim tujjār big merchant entrepreneurs. Foreign firms and local minorities were considered the prime agents of economic change and the initiators of economic growth. The 12 studies in this volume show that the Muslim tujjār played a major economic role in various regions of the Middle East during the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries. Their investments mainly in commercial agriculture resulted in economic growth and changed economic structures and social relations in many Middle Eastern communities. They were also involved in political developments some of which had a dramatic effect on the history of their countries as for instance in late Qajar Iran. They also played a unique role in the process of cultural change. Although they supported the ulamā financially they also contributed to the establishment of new educational and cultural institutions. The story of the tujjār is unique in the sense that it was the only indigenous elite group in the pre World War I Middle East to bridge between traditional forces and concepts and Western attitudes and practices.

A Political Economy of the Middle East Melani Cammett, 2018-03-22

A Political Economy of the Middle East is the most comprehensive analysis of developments in the political economy of the region over the past several decades examining the interaction of economic development processes state systems and policies and social actors in the Middle East. The fourth edition with new authors Melani Cammett and Ishac Diwan has been thoroughly revised with two new introductory chapters that provide an updated framework with which to understand and study the many changes in demography education labor markets urbanization water and agriculture and international labor migration in the recent years. The new edition also includes a new chapter that charts the political economy of the Gulf states and in particular the phenomenal growth of oil economies a new chapter on the rise of crony capitalism and increased coverage of the changes in civil society and social movements in the region including an exploration of the causes dynamics consequences and aftermath of the Arab uprisings.

State, Private Enterprise and Economic Change in Egypt, 1918-1952

Robert L. Tignor, 2017-03-14 This study of Egyptian efforts to diversify the country's economy between the end of World War I and the Nasser coup d'état of 1952 focuses on the nascent bourgeoisie and the relationships of its segments to one another. Originally published in 1984 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press. These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions. The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905.

A Critical Political Economy of the Middle East and North Africa

Joel Beinin, Bassam Haddad, Sherene Seikaly, 2020-12-22 This book offers the first critical engagement with the political economy of the Middle East and North Africa Challenging conventional wisdom on the origins and contemporary dynamics of capitalism in the region these cutting edge essays demonstrate how critical political economy can illuminate both historical and contemporary dynamics of the region and contribute to wider political economy debates from the vantage point of the Middle East Leading scholars representing several disciplines contribute both thematic and country specific analyses Their writings critically examine major issues in political economy notably the mutual constitution of states markets and classes the co constitution of class race gender and other forms of identity varying modes of capital accumulation and the legal political and cultural forms of their regulation relations among local national and global forms of capital class and culture
