At a time when Peru continues to reel from the impact of Covid 19 and the eruption of corruption scandals involving five former presidents this book analyzes the persistence and the structural underpinnings of underdevelopment in Peru During the commodities boom of 2004 2011 Peru experienced strong levels of economic growth bringing poverty down and increasing the middle class population In the Covid 19 pandemic however the severe lack of structural economic and social improvements has been exposed With the arrival of the pandemic hospitals collapsed oxygen supplies dwindled and informality rose with dire consequences for the vulnerable and for those already working on subsistence wages Delving into the history of the country Jan Lust outlines the structural problems that came about following Peru s post colonial entrance into the world economy and the subsequent neoliberal extractive development model adopted in the 1990s Only by understanding Peru s specific political economic and social conditions can a path towards development be found This book will be of interest to researchers working within politics economics critical development studies and Latin American studies

 As in most of the rest of Latin America Peruvian economic strategy has gone in something of a circle from long established orientation toward an open economy with minimal state intervention to a period of state led development then back again to what looks like the starting point In the 1960s the Peruvian people had their first real chance to make a democratic choice between continuation of the country s open economy orientation or change they chose change Using this as his starting point Sheahan explains how their choice was not provoked by any economic crisis but by other major influences The majority of Peruvians he shows were seeking objectives more fundamental than economic growth They were with conflicting visions but with many good reasons searching for a better society While positive accomplishments have been important enough went wrong to lead Peru back to a more market determined economic system in 1990 Sheahan addresses the consequences of this return to the earlier economic strategy what might be done to shape the process of development in Peru in Latin America more generally toward less unfair societies Searching for a Better Society is different from the great majority of economic studies of developing countries in its emphasis on the basic role of social dissatisfaction with the country s traditional liberal economic system on the complexity of social goals involved in evaluation of the choice consequences of economic policies The National Bourgeoisie and the Peruvian State Jose Francisco Durand,1990
