State Failure Collapse And Reconstruction:

State Failure in Sub-Saharan Africa Catherine Scott, 2017-06-30 How should failed states in Africa be understood Catherine Scott here critically engages with the concept of state failure and provides an historical reinterpretation. She shows that although the concept emerged in the context of the post Cold War new world order the phenomenon has been attendant throughout and even before the development of the Westphalian state system. Contemporary failed states however differ from their historical counterparts in one fundamental respect: they fail within their existing borders and continue to be recognised as something that they are not. This peculiarity derives from international norms instituted in the era of decolonisation which resulted in the inviolability of state borders and the supposed universality of statehood. Scott argues that contemporary failed states are in fact failed post colonies. Thus understood state failure is less the failure of existing states and more the failed rooting and institutionalisation of imported and reified models of Western statehood. Drawing on insights from the histories of Uganda and Burundi from pre colonial polity formation to the present day she explores why and how there have been failures to create effective and legitimate national states within the bounds of inherited colonial jurisdictions on much of the African continent.

State Legitimacy and Failure in International Law Mario Silva, 2014-02-06 Failing states share characteristics of inadequate structural competency including inter alia the inability to advance human welfare and security. Economic inequalities and corruption are present as well as a loss of legitimacy and reduced social cohesion. Failure of rule of law is manifested in areas of judicial adjudication, security, reduced territorial control and systemic political instability. The international community often confronts these challenges in a manner that actually complicates issues further through lack of consensus among state actors. Consequently a new and emerging concept of sovereignty requires review in terms of the postmodern state. Through scholarly consideration State Legitimacy and Failure in International Law evaluates gaps in structural competency that precipitate state failure and examines the resulting consequences for the world community.

Routledge Handbook of International Statebuilding David Chandler, Timothy D. Sisk, 2013-09-02 This new Handbook offers a combination of theoretical, thematic and empirical analyses of the statebuilding regime written by leading international scholars. Over the past decade international statebuilding has become one of the most important and least understood areas of international policy making. Today there are around one billion people living in some 50-60 conflict-affected fragile states vulnerable to political violence and civil war. The international community grapples with the core challenges and dilemmas of using outside force, aid and persuasion to build states in the wake of conflict and to prevent such countries from lapsing into devastating violence. The Routledge Handbook of International Statebuilding is a comprehensive resource for this emerging area in International Relations. The volume is designed to guide the reader through the background and development of international statebuilding as a policy area as well as exploring in depth significant issues such as security, development, democracy and human rights. Divided into three main parts this Handbook provides a single source overview of the key topics in international statebuilding Part One Concepts and Approaches Part Two Security Development and Democracy Part Three Policy Implementation This Handbook will be essential reading for students of statebuilding humanitarian intervention peacebuilding development war and conflict studies and IR Security Studies in general Troubled Regions and Failing States Kristian Berg Harpviken,2010-07-07 Is the phenomenon of state failure better understood through a focus on the regional context To what extent may studies of regional security benefit from a focus on the capacities and vulnerabilities of the states involved This title addresses these questions Special Issue ,2002

State Failure, Collapse & Reconstruction Jennifer Milliken,2003-08-29 State collapse in such places as Yugoslavia has led to widespread human suffering and regional instability This collection situates state failure and collapse against the backdrop of the emergence consolidation expansion and erosion of the Western state system The Tragedy of Failure Tiffany O. Howard,2010-04-21 This intriguing approach to international conflict seeks to facilitate a dialogue between academics and policymakers on how to better anticipate and prevent state failure subsequent forced migration and the terrorist threat that often results Despite the far reaching implications of state failure little research has been devoted to its consequences Postulating that failed and failing states enable the existence of terrorist organizations The Tragedy of Failure Evaluating State Failure and Its Impact on the Spread of Refugees Terrorism and War bridges that gap Both descriptive and prescriptive the book offers a nuanced examination of the relationship between forced migration state failure and terrorism The author suggests policy strategies that are capable of anticipating the onset of forced migration situations before they develop into crises and presents quantitative forecasting models with the ability to predict the occurrence of state failure and forced migration as much as two years in advance Buoyed by this work and the tools it offers policymakers can focus more closely on the issue of failed states and the movement of refugees and internally displaced persons in the interest of targeting and eliminating dangerous terrorist organizations Journal of International Affairs ,2004 Strategic Studies Quarterly ,2009

Intervention and State-Building in the Pacific Greg Fry,Tarcisius Tara Kabutaulaka,2008-10-15 Intervention and State Building in the Pacific explores state building intervention in weak war torn or failing states through a critical examination of a new model that has recently emerged in relation to the Pacific arc of crisis Initiated by the Australian Government in 2003 this cooperative intervention doctrine built on declared principles of partnership and respect for sovereignty seems to offer a legitimate way to engage in state building intervention Drawing on a group of distinguished Pacific specialists this book mounts a critique of these claims showing how international legitimacy does not automatically translate into political legitimacy among those in the affected societies and how the attempt to legitimize the intervention internationally may actually work against such legitimacy in the recipient state From Fragile State to Functioning State Sabine Collmer,2009 The phenomenon of state fragility has become a mounting concern to the international community in the last decades This edited volume consists of a compilation of articles that evaluates how countries may recover and return to a path of stable and democratic development. In its 17 chapters the contributors analyze the difficult transformation processes of four countries Afghanistan, Georgia, Kosovo and Moldova. The authors tackle theoretical approaches to state reform as well as country specific issues like the role of external actors, security sector reform and anti corruption strategies.

OECD Journal on Development, 2008    International Territorial Administration Ralph Wilde, 2008 The book is the first comprehensive treatment of the reasons why international organizations have engaged in territorial administration from the League of Nations in Danzig during the inter war period to the UN in East Timor recently and Kosovo today. Moving beyond the fashionable and misleading use of terms like post conflict reconstruction and state building to describe the role of international territorial administration this book engages in a complex analysis of the various purposes with which this activity has been associated some of which for example settling disputes over sovereignty have nothing to do with perceived local incapacities for governance. The book goes beyond territorial administration by the UN covering the conduct of this activity by international organizations generally thereby analyzing lesser known projects like the EU Administration in Mostar 1994. It addresses instances of partial as well as plenary administration such as the role of the Office of the High Representative in imposing legislation in Bosnia and Herzegovina since 1996. By revealing the complex and diverse range of objectives which international organizations have attempted to realize through territorial administration and establishing the commonalities and differences between the administration projects in this respect the book establishes the contours of an international policy institution to rank alongside peacekeeping and humanitarian intervention. By doing so it provides a framework through which some of the key questions relating to such projects concerning legitimacy, authority and applicable law can be addressed. It also reveals a secret history of international organizations throughout the 20th Century complementing work on their role in managing relations between states by exposing their role within particular states and non state territories beyond the well documented activity of peacekeeping by military forces.

Understanding Ethnic Conflict Ray Taras, Rajat Ganguly, 2006 The completely updated edition of this groundbreaking text provides students with a clear analytical framework for understanding ethnic conflicts and how they affect international relations. This text surveys theories of nationalism and ethnic conflict and tests their applicability to a number of contemporary cases the more confident nationalism of Putin's Russia the intensification of ethnic war in Sri Lanka and the struggle to change the face of nationalism in the former Yugoslavia to name just a few. After a look at the sources of nationalist conflict in a country each case study then asks how the international system reacted. Taken as a whole the book examines how successful the international system has been in managing the many ethnic conflicts that erupted after the Cold War. This updated edition reflects all recent world events as well as the latest scholarship in the field.

Violence in Developing Countries Christopher Cramer, 2007
Violence in Developing Countries forges an alternative understanding of how violence shapes a globalizing society.

North and South in the World Political Economy Rafael Reuveny, William R. Thompson, 2008-07-28

Focusing on the problems of the North South divide this book is organised into three groups of essays Problems Afflicting the Global South Problems Maintaining the North South Gap and Particular Points of Conflict and Solutions to Reduce the North South Gap      State Failure Michael Hough, Anton Du Plessis, 2004      State Failure, Collapse and Reconstruction Jennifer Milliken, 2002      A Wiser Century? Thomas Giegerich, 2009 The Hague Peace Conferences of 1899 and 1907 dealt with three interlinked topics the peaceful settlement of disputes including by arbitration the restriction of armaments and military budgets the laws of war The first two were aimed at preventing the outbreak of war not by restricting the jus ad bellum in its substance but by inducing states not to use their continuing war power and to limit the growth of their war machinery The third topic was concerned with containing the brutality of war where its prevention had failed Whereas the Conferences succeeded in codifying the laws of war they made less progress with regard to the peaceful settlement of disputes and failed on limiting armaments Worst of all they could not prevent the outbreak of World War I This volume uses the occasion of the 100th anniversary of the Second Hague Peace Conference to follow up on the then concerns and objectives looking at the Hague legacy through the lens of today's problems The 27 contributions treat the most pressing recent issues of non proliferation and disarmament international humanitarian law and judicial dispute settlement Three questions run like a thread through this volume 1 In which areas have the promises of 1899 and 1907 remained unfulfilled and why 2 In which areas has there been progress in which other areas perhaps regression 3 What are our prospects and how can we international lawyers help shaping a promising future in respect of the prevention and containment of war Whereas the empire of law in international relations and the age of international justice which were envisaged in the Convention for the Pacific Settlement of International Disputes of 1899 1907 have not yet arrived on the global level we Europeans have made considerable progress since 1945 But in the age of globalization Europe cannot for long remain an Isle of the Blest Together with the other peoples of the United Nations we must therefore strive toward fulfilling the promises of the UN Charter and the Universal Declaration of Human Rights peace justice freedom and prosperity for everyone and all nations large and small Only then can wars be prevented      State Reconstruction in West Africa 'Segun Jegede, Ayodele Ale, Eni Akinsola, 2001
