Rural Resources and Local Livelihoods in Africa NA NA,2016-09-27 Top scholars examine issues which lead readers to better understand environmental change in the African continent and its effects on rural African livelihoods Each of the studies in this book concerns four main issues conservation biodiversity and environment land use and livelihoods environmental change and policies for conservation and development The volume looks closely at the details of rural resource use access and control the social institutions which shape this and the effects on African environments It is not possible to understand livelihoods in Africa a central issue for all social and economic questions without grasping the interplay between environmental change and the sustainability of rural livelihoods The volume is groundbreaking in its detailed examination of this interplay and its importance in grasping the roots of poverty and potential for its alleviation and for its unique combination of natural and social science methods

Strangers in the Forest and Other Stories Vimala Kumar,2005 Rainforest Relations Melissa Leach,2021-06-24 With environmental change and conservation in West Africa's tropical rainforests becoming topics of increasing political and academic interest this book brings a fresh set of perspectives to the debate those of the forest dwellers themselves Based on her detailed field research in the Mende communities around Gola North Forest reserve and surveying the recent debates and literature concerning forest conservations and current analytical approaches to gender and the environment Melissa Leach examines the importance of rainforest resources to the local economy and social relations and shows that neither an understanding of forest use and change nor adequate conservation policies can be achieved without a concern for gender Strangers in the Forest & Other Stories R. Lisa, Sarada Nair, Vimala Kumar, 2005 Living Beings Penelope Dransart, 2020-06-03 Living Beings examines the vital characteristics of social interactions between living beings including humans other animals and trees. Many discussions of such relationships highlight the exceptional qualities of the human members of the category insisting for instance on their religious beliefs or creativity. In contrast the international case studies in this volume dissect views based on hierarchical oppositions between human and other living beings. Although human practices may sometimes appear to exist in a realm beyond nature they are nevertheless subject to the pull of natural forces. These forces may be brought into prominence through a consideration of the interactions between human beings and other inhabitants of the natural world. The interplay in this book between social anthropologists philosophers and artists cuts across species divisions to examine the experiential dimensions of interspecies engagements. In ethnographically and or historically contextualized chapters contributors examine the juxtaposition of human and other living beings in the light of themes such as wildlife safaris violence difference mimicry simulation spiritual renewal dress and language The Ladies' Repository, 1874 The idea of this women's magazine originated with Samuel Williams a Cincinnati Methodist who thought that Christian women needed a magazine less worldly than Godey's Lady's Book and Snowden's Lady's Companion. Written largely by ministers this exceptionally well printed little magazine contained well written essays of a moral character plenty of poetry articles on historical and scientific matters and book reviews. Among western writers were Alice Cary who contributed over a hundred sketches and poems her sister Phoebe Cary, Otway Curry, Moncure D Conway and Joshua R Giddings and New England contributors included Mrs Lydia Sigourney, Hannah F Gould and Julia C R Dorr. By 1851 each issue published a piece of music and two steel plates usually landscapes or portraits. When Davis E Clark took over the editorship in 1853 the magazine became brighter and attained a circulation of 40 000. Unlike his predecessors Clark included fictional pieces and made the Repository a magazine for the whole family. After the war it began to decline and in 1876 was replaced by the National Repository. The Ladies Repository was an excellent representative of the Methodist mind and heart. Its essays sketches and poems its good steel engravings and its moral tone gave it a charm all its own. She is given the advantage of a good education but it serves only to heighten her growing realisation that because of the harsh injustices of poverty there is little hope for the woodcutters. The day after her marriage to Johannes himself of woodcutter stock she realises that she has made the wrong choice. She may have escaped from the poverty of the forest but she has exchanged her freedom for a cage. Alone and afraid she leaves her husband and takes the road back to the forest.
