Woods, 2008 Neutral Ground A Political History of Espionage Fiction takes the reader behind the fiction and explores the real world political military and diplomatic events that have consistently and significantly threaded their way through the fabric of the genre Against this historical timeline it examines how numerous authors including Rudyard Kipling Somerset Maugham Graham Greene and John le Carre have engaged reality in order to write the espionage novels that have become literary classics and in selected cases have also served to alter the course of government policy From publisher's description

The Early Poetry of Robert Graves Frank L. Kersnowski, 2002-07-15 Like many men of his generation poet Robert Graves was indelibly marked by his experience of trench warfare in World War I The horrific battles in which he fought and his guilt over surviving when so many perished left Graves shell shocked and disoriented desperately seeking a way to bridge the rupture between his conventional upbringing and the uncertainties of post war British society In this study of Graves's early poetry Frank Kersnowski explores how his war neurosis opened a door into the unconscious for Graves and led him to reject the essential components of the Western idea of reality reason and predictability In particular Kersnowski traces the emergence in Graves's early poems of a figure he later called The White Goddess a being at once terrifying and glorious who sustains life and inspires poetry Drawing on interviews with Graves's family as well as unpublished correspondence and drafts of poems Kersnowski argues that Graves actually experienced the White Goddess as a real being and that his life as a poet was driven by the purpose of celebrating and explaining this deity and her matriarchy      Empires of Print Patrick Scott Belk, 2017-05-08 At the turn of the twentieth century the publishing industries in Britain and the United States underwent dramatic expansions and reorganization that brought about an increased traffic in books and periodicals around the world Focusing on adventure fiction published from 1899 to 1919 Patrick Scott Belk looks at authors such as Joseph Conrad H G Wells Conan Doyle and John Buchan to explore how writers of popular fiction engaged with foreign markets and readers through periodical publishing Belk argues that popular fiction particularly the adventure genre developed in ways that directly correlate with authors' experiences and shows that popular genres of the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries emerged as one way of marketing their literary works to expanding audiences of readers worldwide Despite an over determined print space altered by the rise of new kinds of consumers and transformations of accepted habits of reading publishing and writing the changes in British and American publishing at the turn of the twentieth century inspired an exciting new period of literary invention and experimentation in the adventure genre and the greater part of that invention and experimentation was happening in the magazines      Beyond Gold and Diamonds Melissa Free, 2021-03-01 Beyond Gold and Diamonds demonstrates the importance of southern Africa to British literature from the 1880s to the 1920s from the rise of the systematic exploitation of the region's mineral wealth to the aftermath of World War I It focuses on fiction by the colonial born Olive Schreiner southern Africa's first literary celebrity as well as by H Rider Haggard Gertrude Page and John Buchan its most influential authorial informants British authors who spent significant time in the region and wrote about it as insiders Tracing the ways in which generic innovation enabled these writers to negotiate cultural and political concerns through a uniquely British South African lens Melissa Free argues that British South African literature constitutes a distinct field one that overlaps with but also exists apart from both a national South African literary tradition and a tradition of South African literature in English The various genres that British South African novelists introduced the New Woman novel the female colonial romance the Rhodesian settler romance and the modern spy thriller anticipated metropolitan literary developments while consolidating Britain's sense of its own dominion in a time of increasing opposition British
