The French Colonial Myth And Constitution Making In The Fourth Republic:

The French Colonial Myth and Constitution-making in the Fourth Republic D. Bruce Marshall, 1973-01-01

Cold War and Decolonization in Guinea, 1946-1958 Elizabeth Schmidt, 2007-09-25 In September 1958 Guinea claimed its independence rejecting a constitution that would have relegated it to junior partnership in the French Community In all the French empire Guinea was the only territory to vote No Orchestrating the No vote was the Guinean branch of the Rassemblement D mocratique Africain RDA an alliance of political parties with affiliates in French West and Equatorial Africa and the United Nations trusts of Togo and Cameroon Although Guinea s stance vis vis the 1958 constitution has been recognized as unique until now the historical roots of this phenomenon have not been adequately explained Clearly written and free of jargon Cold War and Decolonization in Guinea argues that Guinea s vote for independence was the culmination of a decade long struggle between local militants and political leaders for control of the political agenda Since 1950 when RDA representatives in the French parliament severed their ties to the French Communist Party conservative elements had dominated the RDA In Guinea local cadres had opposed the break Victimized by the administration and sidelined by their own leaders they quietly rebuilt the party from the base Leftist militants their voices muted throughout most of the decade gained preeminence in 1958 when trade unionists students the party s women s and youth wings and other grassroots actors pushed the Guinean RDA to endorse a No vote Thus Guinea s rejection of the proposed constitution in favor of immediate independence was not an isolated aberration Rather it was the outcome of years of political mobilization by activists who despite Cold War repression ultimately pushed the Guinean RDA to the left The significance of this highly original book based on previously unexamined archival records and oral interviews with grassroots activists extends far beyond its primary subject In illuminating the Guinean case Elizabeth Schmidt helps us understand the dynamics of decolonization and its legacy for postindependence nation building in many parts of the developing world Examining Guinean history from the bottom up Schmidt considers local politics within the larger context of the Cold War making her book suitable for courses in African history and politics diplomatic history and Cold War history

The French Colonial Myth and Constitution-making in the Fourth Republic Donald Bruce Marshall, 1973 Kolonisatie en staatsvorming buiten Europa, 1993 Bundel opstellen The French Colonial Lobby, 1889-1938 Stuart Michael Persell, 1983 The French Empire at War, 1940-45 Martin Thomas, 1998 Draws on original research to look at the history of the divided French Empire the Vichy and Free French Empires during World War II The text argues that although the Vichy and Free French colonial authorities were only rarely masters of their own destiny during the war preservation of some imperial control helped them both in different ways The Vichy government used the empire to withstand German Italian pressure for concessions in metropolitan France and it was key to their claim to be more than the mouthpiece of a defeated nation The International Journal of African Historical Studies, 1982 European Decolonization Martin Thomas, 2007 This collection brings together twenty one key articles that explore the nature and impact of colonial withdrawal Ranging across all the European colonial powers the articles discuss various aspects of decolonization including the role of political violence changing popular attitudes to empire and the interactions between colonial conflict and Cold War The French Stake in Algeria, 1945-1962 Tony Smith, 1978

Cameroon, 1884-1985 Victor Julius Ngoh, 1988 Law Books, 1876-1981 R.R. Bowker Company, 1981 Unfinished Projects Paige Arthur, 2010 In this major new reading of Sartre's life and work Paige Arthur traces the relationship between the philosopher's decades long commitment to decolonization and his intellectual positions Where other commentators have focused on the tensions between Sartre's Marxism and his account of existential freedom usually to denigrate one in favor of the other Arthur shows how Sartre's political engagement with global liberation movements and his philosophical framework developed alongside one another Closely following the postwar movements for decolonization and then supporting the war of independence in Algeria Sartre proposed an influential and uncompromising view of imperialism Analyzing the Western attitude to the subhuman colonial subject he offered an account of the social constraints that applied to both ruler and ruled and came to argue that political violence on both sides was a systematic consequence of the colonial order Arthur's rich and nuanced book locates Sartre within the political discussions of his time whilst also looking forward to contemporary debates about new forms of imperialism and resistance "Please Sir, I Want Some More" (O. Twist) Anthony Hamilton Millard Kirk-Greene, 1988 Unfinished Projects Susan Paige Arthur, 2004 Asia Redux Prasenjit Duara, 2013 In the erudite essay that opens this forum Prasenjit Duara turns to both indigenous thinkers and the premodern past for tools with which to think about Asia in a global age Contemporary modalities of regional exchange weakly bounded network oriented pluralistic multitemporal chime with earlier patterns of cultural circulation without state domination giving rise to a prophetic vision of Asia Redux This attempt to capture the contours of a re emergent region was calculated to provide And what a debate it kicks off Wang Hui resolutely reframes imagining Asia as a political project on a world historical canvas Tansen Sen greatly complicates the map of intra Asian commercial exchange in earlier times Amitav Acharya outlines five competing conceptions of Asia in the domain of international relations alone Barbara Watson Andaya teases out the paradoxical way in which regional religions make clashing claims about Asian unity and Rudolf Mrazek asks what of the Asia that bleeds what of exploitation and its spawn the inglorious built ends of the global economy The reward for those who read this collection straight through is a thrillingly cacophonous conversation about how to grasp Asia in our time Karen E Wigen Stanford University Will a re emergent Asia extend the violent rivalries and inequalities of Western dominated empires nations and capital Or can Asia somehow draw on a relatively more peaceful past of maritime trade interlinked religions and circulations beyond states to think and make a very different sort of region and world Prasenjit Duara and his interlocutors define this vital debate on Asia's future through illuminating reflections on its recent and deep past A touchstone for anyone concerned with a future shape of an inter connected Asia newly possessed of wealth and power Engseng Ho Duke University The Issue of War Christopher Thorne, 1985 The Second World War's Pacific conflict was one of the most complex in history. It embroiled peoples from opposite sides of the globe; it was fought in China across the expanses of the Pacific and in the jungles of Southeast Asia and it was devastating in its consequences for civilians and servicemen alike. It saw the first use of atomic weapons hastened the end of the Western empires in Asia and marked America's rise to the position of the most powerful nation in the world. Christopher Thorne, whose previous studies of the war in the Pacific have become landmarks in the field, here weaves together both the entire network of international relations surrounding the war and the impact the war had on all the societies involved: Indian as well as American, Australian and New Zealand as well as Japanese, Korean, Chinese and Southeast Asian as well as British, French and Dutch. The Issue of War draws on material gathered over many years in the Far East, Western Europe and the U.S., material including wartime films, broadcasts and newspapers as well as countless private and official papers. Representing a synthesis of military, diplomatic, economic, intellectual and social history, it not only places the war in the context of developments before 1941 but illuminates various patterns that cut across the familiar distinctions between Asia and the West or between Japan and the Allies. About the Author: Christopher Thorne, a Fellow of the British Academy, is the author of Allies of a Kind: The United States, Britain and the War Against Japan, 1941-1945. In 1979 he became the first non-American to win the Bancroft Prize for American history. The Military in Imperial History Alf Andrew Heggoy, John M. Haar, 1984 The Politics of African and Middle Eastern States Wilfrid Knapp, 1976 Strategic Review, 1980 dedicated to the advancement and understanding of those principles and practices military and political which serve the vital security interests of the United States Accommodation and Resistance Edward Rice Maximin, 1986-09-17 In this careful historical analysis, Edward Rice Maximin documents the reactions of the French Left to the First Indochina War, 1944-1954. Unlike previous works which dealt exclusively with the politics of the French Communists, this book is among the first to deal with the entire French left and to focus directly on the role of the Socialists.
