The French Literary Filmmakers:

The History of French Literature on Film Kate Griffiths, Andrew Watts, 2020-12-24 French novels, plays, poems and short stories however temporally or culturally distant from us continue to be incarnated and reincarnated on cinema screens across the world. From the silent films of Georges Méliès to the Hollywood production of Gustave Flaubert's Madame Bovary directed by Sophie Barthes, The History of French Literature on Film explores the key films, directors and movements that have shaped the adaptation of works by French authors since the end of the 19th century. Across six chapters, Griffiths and Watts examine the factors that have driven this vibrant adaptive industry as filmmakers have turned to literature in search of commercial profits, cultural legitimacy and stories rich in dramatic potential. The volume also explains how the work of theorists from a variety of disciplines—literary theory, translation theory, adaptation theory—can help to deepen both our understanding and our appreciation of literary adaptation as a creative practice. Finally, this volume seeks to make clear that adaptation is never a simple transcription of an earlier literary work. It is always simultaneously an adaptation of the society and era for which it is created. Adaptations of French literature are thus not only valuable artistic artefacts in their own right, so too are they important historical documents which testify to the values and tastes of their own time.

Michalczyk, 1980    Film Year Book, 1938    The Film Daily Year Book of Motion Pictures, 1938    Film as Literature, Literature as Film Harris Ross, 1987-06-11 This work discusses the relationship between film and literature, explaining and evaluating the issues most frequently raised on the subject. It also lists nearly 2,500 articles and books published from 1908 to 1985 on the comparison of film to drama, fiction and poetry. These comparisons arose shortly after the first appearance of moving pictures as writers attempted to establish the differences between movies and drama. The study has since grown into a significant scholarly concern.    The French Cinema Book Michael Temple, Michael Witt, 2004 The French Cinema Book is an innovative survey and guide to French cinema from the 1890s to the 21st century.    The History of French Literature on Film Kate Griffiths, Andrew Watts, 2020 Introduction Deceptive binaries, adaptations and their literary sources.
