

“A spectre is haunting Europe—the spectre of communism.”

CHRONICLES OF
RELIGIOUS PERSECUTION
IN CHINA

The Chinese Communist Party—the spectre of communism, is the bloodiest satanic regime in history to persecute religious beliefs. It frantically suppresses and cruelly massacres Christians, causing the whole of mainland China to fall into an atmosphere of terror where blood is in the air, black clouds hang over cities and anger and blame is spread across the land!

The Fulfilled Promise Gjon Sinishta,1976    De eeuw van de martelaren Andrea Riccardi,2002    Enver Hoxha
Blendi Fevziu,2016-02-01 Stalinism that particularly brutal phase of the Communist experience came to an end in most of Europe with the death of Stalin in 1953 However in one country Albania Stalinism survived virtually unscathed until 1990 The regime that the Albanian dictator Enver Hoxha led from 1944 until his death in 1985 was incomparably severe Such was the reign of terror that no audible voice of opposition or dissent ever arose in the Balkan state and Albania became isolated from the rest of the world and utterly inward looking Three decades after his death the spectre of Hoxha still lingers over the country yet many people inside and outside Albania know little about the man who ruled the country with an iron fist for so many decades This book provides the first biography of Hoxha available in English Using unseen documents and first hand interviews journalist Blendi Fevziu pieces together the life of a tyrannical ruler in a biography which will be essential reading for anyone interested in Balkan history and communist studies    A Dictionary of Albanian Religion, Mythology and Folk Culture Robert Elsie,2001 This dictionary makes available for the first time a broad range of knowledge unknown or little known to the western world and indeed much information that is now lost to present day Albanians As such it serves as a basic work of reference for readers and scholars specialising in the societies of the Balkans th study of religious and anthropology    World Christianity and Marxism Denis R. Janz,1998-04-09 Denis Janz argues that the encounter with Marxism has been the defining event for twentieth century Christianity No other worldview shook Christianity more dramatically and no other movement had as profound an impact on so many Now the Cold War is over and as we approach the end of the century we need Janz says to ask ourselves what happened This book is the first unified and comprehensive attempt to analyze this historic meeting between these two antagonistic worlds of thought and action The intellectual foundation of this antagonism is to be found in Karl Marx himself and thus the book begins with an account of Marx s assault on Christianity All the diverse philosophical and political manifestations of Marxism were ultimately rooted in Marx s thought and supporters based their greater or lesser hostilities toward Christianity on their reading of his critique Janz follows this with an overview of Christian responses to Marx extending from the mid 19th century to the onset of the Cold War He argues that within this time frame Christianity s negation of Marx was not absolute the loud no to Marx bore with it an important if muted yes With this intellectual groundwork in place Janz turns to an examination of the encounter as it unfolded in specific national contexts the United States the Soviet Union Poland Nicaragua Cuba China and Albania The experiences of these countries varied widely from Poland where Christianity maintained its strongest independence to Nicaragua where a Christian alliance with Marxism contributed to revolutionary change to Albania where a Stalinist government attempted to abolish religion entirely From this survey emerges the evidence that world Christianity has clearly internalized some of the prominent features of its antagonist suggesting that the Marxist project is not as utterly defunct as many have assumed

Broken Altars Thomas Albert Howard, 2025-03-25 A sweeping history of the violence perpetrated by governments committed to extreme forms of secularism in the twentieth century A popular truism derived from the Enlightenment holds that violence is somehow inherent to religion to which political secularism offers a liberating solution But this assumption ignores a glaring modern reality that putatively progressive regimes committed to secularism have possessed just as much and often a vastly greater capacity for violence as those tied to a religious identity In Broken Altars Thomas Albert Howard presents a powerful account of the misery deaths and destruction visited on religious communities by secularist regimes in the twentieth century Presenting three principal forms of modern secularism that have arisen since the Enlightenment passive secularism combative secularism and eliminationist secularism Howard argues that the latter two have been especially violence prone Westerners do not fully grasp this however because they often mistake the first form passive secularism for secularism as a whole But a disconcertingly more complicated picture emerges with the adoption of a broader global vision Admitting different species of secularism greater historical perspective and case studies drawn from the former Soviet Union Turkey Mexico Spain Czechoslovakia Albania Mongolia and China among other countries Howard calls into question the conventional tale of modernity as the pacifying triumph of secularism over a benighted religious past Nihil Obstat Sabrina P. Ramet, 1998 Politics religion and social change in the post communist world of Eastern Europe and Russia
