Hanna Fenichel Pitkin Dean Mathiowetz, 2016-05-26 Hanna Fenichel Pitkin has made key contributions to the field of political philosophy pushing forward and clarifying the ways that political theorists think about action as the exercise of political freedom In so doing she has offered insightful studies of the problems of modern politics that theorists are called to address and has addressed them herself in a range of theoretical genres This collection of her works approaches each of these dimensions of Pitkin's contributions in turn The Modern Condition and The Impetus to Theorize Pitkin has offered sustained reflection on what aspects of modern political life prompt the impulse to theorize politics Highlighting the pitfalls that modern life and philosophy also present for that enterprise she suggests an agenda for political theorizing that engages the dilemmas of modernity in ways that grasp the importance of paradox as a portal of insight into the modern condition and eschews attempts at easy resolution Moral Philosophy Judgment Justice Pitkin has turned at several points in her career to the concept of justice as one that particularly brings together questions of agency and responsibility the insights of moral philosophy and judgment Drawing upon a variety of methodological resources and theoretical inspirations her work engages ordinary language philosophy pedagogical practice and textual study to yield a complex and subtle set of observations all of which open moral philosophy and matters of judgment to questions of action and responsibility in the exercise of political freedom Action Political agency and its obstacles are a key theme in Pitkin's work and a main area of her theoretical innovation She has examined the appeal of autonomy as a picture of political agency explored the ways that the institutional arrangements of modern liberal societies attempt to link of individual and political agency and offered a picture of political freedom as maintaining the tension between individual parts and collective wholes Finally Pitkin has meditated on the political and social conditions that most impede our ability to grasp agency as a practice of political freedom and gestured to paths that may lead forward Turtle Bogue Harry G. Lefever, 1992 This book is an oral history and ethnography of the Afro Caribbean individuals and families who settled in Tortuguero a small village in northeastern Costa Rica The author uses the concept of creole cultures and societies to analyze and interpret the descriptive ethnographic data in the book Illustrated The Poetical Works of John Godfrey Saxe John Godfrey Saxe, 1882

Günter Grass and His Critics Siegfried Mews, 2008 A comprehensive narrative overview and analysis of the criticism of the controversial German author's works When the Swedish Academy announced that Günter Grass had been awarded the 1999 Nobel Prize for Literature it singled out his first novel The Tin Drum 1959 English translation 1963 as a seminal work that had signaled the postwar rebirth of German letters auguring a new beginning after decades of linguistic and moral destruction Nearly fifty years after its publication the novel's significance has been generally acknowledged it is the uncontested favorite among Grass's works of fiction on the part of reading public and critics alike yet its canonical status tends to obscure the decidedly mixed and even hostile reactions it initially elicited Along with The Tin Drum Grass's impressive body of literary work since the 1950s has spawned a cottage industry of Grass criticism making a reliable guide through the thicket of sometimes contradictory readings a definite desideratum Siegfried Mews fills this lacuna in Grass scholarship by way of a detailed but succinct descriptive as well as analytical and evaluative overview of the scholarship from 1959 to 2005 Grass's politically motivated interventions in public discourse have kept him highly visible blurring the boundaries between politics and aesthetics Mews therefore examines not only academic criticism but also the daily and weekly press and other news media providing additional insight into the reception of Grass's works Siegfried Mews is Professor of German at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

Ecocritical Perspectives on Children's Texts and Cultures Nina Goga, Lykke Guanio-Uluru, Bjørg Oddrun Hallås, Aslaug Nyrnes, 2018-06-11 This volume presents key contributions to the study of ecocriticism in Nordic children's and YA literary and cultural texts in dialogue with international classics It investigates the extent to which texts for children and young adults reflect current environmental concerns The chapters are grouped into five thematic areas Ethics and Aesthetics Landscape Vegetal Animal and Human and together they explore Nordic representations and a Nordic conception or feeling of nature The textual analyses are complemented with the lived experiences of outdoor learning practices in preschools and schools captured through children's own statements The volume highlights the growing influence of posthumanist theory and the continuing traces of anthropocentric concerns within
