The Future Of Theology:

The Future of Theology John Auricchio, 1970      Apocalyptic and the Future of Theology Joshua B. Davis, Douglas Harink, 2012-11-07 Ernst Kasemann famously claimed that apocalyptic is the mother of Christian theology J Louis Martyn's radical interpretation of the overarching significance of apocalyptic in Paul's theology has pushed Kasemann's claim further and deeper Still despite the recognition that apocalyptic is at the core of New Testament and Pauline theology modern theology has often dismissed domesticated or demythologized early Christian apocalyptic A renewed interest in taking apocalyptic seriously is one of the most exciting developments in recent theology The essays in this volume taking their point of departure from the work of Martyn and Kasemann wrestle critically with the promise and possible peril of the apocalyptic transformation of Christian theology With original contributions from established scholars including Beverly Gaventa Stanley Hauerwas Robert Jenson Walter Lowe Joseph Mangina Christopher Morse and Fleming Rutledge as well as younger voices this volume makes a substantial contribution to the discussion of apocalyptic and theology today A unique feature of the book is a personal reflection on Ernst Kasemann by J Louis Martyn himself      The Future of Theology Miroslav Volf, Carmen Krieg, Thomas Kucharz, 1996 This is a print on demand book and is therefore non returnable Perhaps no other theologian of the second half of this century has shaped theology so profoundly as has Jürgen Moltmann He appeared on the world theological scene with his Theology of Hope 1964 and took most of its capitals by storm His subsequent works have kept him at the forefront of the modern theological enterprise and the power of his vision and the originality of his method have inspired a host of new theologians In terms of fecundity Moltmann's opus remains unmatched among his generation of theologians More than 130 dissertations written so far on his thought most of them in the past decade testify eloquently to its continued attractiveness In honor of Moltmann's 70th birthday twenty six of the world's leading theologians his friends colleagues interlocutors and former students have contributed to this volume on the future of theology Moltmann himself has always sought to be both contemporary and future oriented his theology can be viewed as an exercise not only from the perspective of God's future but also toward a new human future Thus a book on the future of theology takes up an aspect of his theme and his concern Yet this volume also makes a significant contribution to theology in its own right seeking as it does to address the present crisis of theology As Miroslav Volf writes in his introduction On the threshold of the third millennium the presumed queen of sciences has grown old and feeble unable to see that what she thinks is her throne is just an ordinary chair uncertain about what her territories are and confused about how to rule in the realms she thinks are hers seeking advice from a quarrelsome chorus of counselors each of whom thinks himself the king and ending up with a divided even schizophrenic mind The essays in this volume attempt to revitalize theology as it confronts a difficult future Despite the formidable obstacles that threaten the very survival of theology in the next century religious and cultural plurality the marginalization of theology in public discourse increasing abstraction in the practice of theology pressing issues of gender race poverty and ecology the seemingly archaic voice of theology in post Christian societies the contributors to this volume all believe in the future of theology as a vibrant discipline The Future of Theology is organized in three parts Challenges deals with the external or internal problems that theology is facing Perspectives offers proposals on how to meet the challenges Themes concentrates on various issues that need special attention today Together these essays succeed in setting the theological agenda for the future of theology and thereby serve as a fitting tribute to this volume's esteemed honoree Contributors Stanley Hauerwas Elisabeth Moltmann-Wendel John B Cobb Jr James H Cone D Lyle Dabney Ingolf U Dalferth Gustavo Guti rrez Douglas John Hall Ellen T Charry M Douglas Meeks Johann Baptist Metz Konrad Raiser Wolfhart Pannenberg Paul Ricoeur John Howard Yoder Dietrich Ritschl Dorothe S lle Jon Sobrino Elsa Tamez Geoffrey Wainwright Rosemary Radford Ruether Miroslav Volf Michael Welker Nicholas Wolterstorff Catherine Keller Huns K ng     A

Postmodern Theology of Ritual Action Jonathan L. Best, 2019-02-26 A Postmodern Theology of Ritual Action is a unique work that seeks to explore where we find meaning within ritual and actions within the church Bridging hermeneutics philosophy and postmodern thought this work seeks to explore how to do theology with the community through conversation Beginning with the mindset that meaning is already present within ritual action rather than outside it Best engages the practice of foot washing among the Original Free Will Baptist denomination of eastern North Carolina Foot washing suggests a new future for theology a future that models love service and acceptance Incorporating insights gained from conversing with philosophy theology and the Original Free Will Baptists foot washing points toward a future relational practical theology A Postmodern Theology of Ritual Action is a captivating work that draws from both philosophers and theologians to show that we can learn much by listening to the voices of religious practitioners     Theology and the Future Trevor Cairney, David Starling, 2014-07-31 Theology was once queen of the sciences the integrating centre of Christendom's conceptual universe In our own time the very idea of systematic theology is frequently called into question derided as an arcane and superstitious pseudo discipline Even within the church it is commonly disregarded in favour of unreflective piety and pragmatism At the same time the southward shift in world Christianity's centre of gravity prompts crucial questions about the future form and content of theology Within this context Theology and the Future offers a case for the continuing viability of theology exploring how it might adapt to changing circumstances and discussing its implications for how we are to imagine and help shape our shared human future Beginning with the question of God this book explores what might be meant by the future of God and what its implications are for Christian theology Chapters follow on the location of theology in global Christianity the church and the academy and on its sources and method The second half of the book explores a wide variety of dimensions of the human future that theology might address and illuminate The essays bring together a mix of specialist theologians and interdisciplinary thinkers to support the assertion that there can be no more critical endeavor to the future than understanding God and all things in relationship to him     Ford's The Modern Theologians Rachel Muers, Ashley

The Future of Christian Theology David F. Ford, 2011-02-28 The Future of Christian Theology represents a personal manifesto from one of the world's leading theologians exploring the ways Christian theology in the twenty first century has been and can now continue to be both creative and wise Represents an outstanding and engaging account of the task of theology today Offers an insightful description of what makes for discerning and creative theology Written from the perspective of decades of experience and in close dialogue with theologians of other faiths Features a strong interfaith and public theology dimension and a contemporary portrait of the field from the inside A hopeful and illuminating search for wisdom and understanding in the increasingly complex religious and secular world of the twenty first century

The Future of Religions Paul Tillich, 1966 As a man who had always interpreted his own life as being lived on the boundary Paul Tillich was uniquely qualified for the task of illumining a revolutionary age of crumbling frontiers and of identifying the new horizons beyond In these four recent lectures the reader encounters Tillich in his dual role of analyst and seer The volume contains The Effects of Space Exploration on Man's Condition and Stature Frontiers Tillich's famous German Peace Prize address and The Decline and the Validity of the Idea of Progress In The Significance of the History of Religions for the Systematic Theologian his last Chicago address appearing here in print for the first time Tillich takes issues both with Neo Orthodoxy and the God is Dead theology and proposes that the new constructive phase of Christian systematic theology must relate Christian faith to the basic insights of other world religions Different aspects of Tillich's impact on America are treated in tributes by Jerald C Brauer Dean of the Divinity School and Professor of Church History the University of Chicago Wilhelm Pauck Charles A Briggs Graduate Professor of Church History Union Theological Seminary New York City and Mircea Eliade Sewell L Avery Distinguished Service Professor and Chairman of the Department of the History of Religion at the University of Chicago Publisher The Future of Roman Catholic Theology George A. Meeting,2005 Ten Great Religions: an Essay in Comparative Theology James Freeman Clarke,1883 Theology and the Future Eric Lionel Mascall,1968 God--The World's Future Ted Peters,2015-08-01 God The World's Future has been a proven textbook in systematic theology for over twenty years Thoroughly revised and expanded this third edition is explicitly crafted to address our postmodern context and explains the whole body of Christian historical doctrine from within a proleptic framework Peters skillfully deploys this concept not only to organize the various theological areas or loci but also to rethink doctrines in light of key postmodern challenges from ecumenism critical historical thinking contemporary science and gender and sexuality issues Understanding and Developing Theological Education Bernhard Ott,2016-01-31 Historically education has been driven from behind the history and above the educational institution Traditions and adherence requirements have led to inflexible models of school leadership that are focused on administration and rife with educational politics In contrast today's theological landscape needs institutions with a grassroots driven educational system looking to a future that is biblically and theologically grounded This publication an English translation from the original German focuses on the leadership and curriculum development required for such a paradigm shift Ott comprehensively assesses trends in current theological education across the world with detailed reference to wider trends in global tertiary education Written primarily for those in leadership roles at theological schools and training institutions this handbook is an essential resource for equipping the next generation of leaders in theological education On Being Christian and Human Todd Speidell,2002-04-17 In the tradition of Karl Barth T F and J B Torrance and Ray Anderson this collection of essays articulates a theology of ministry based on the humanity of Christ A Christian theology of ministry it insists can be nothing less than a theology for humanity The Methodist Review ,1892 Faith and the Future Joseph Ratzinger,Pope Benedict XVI,2010-05-11 Increasingly the future is becoming a theme for theological reflection In the background we can detect a growing concern among many people for the future of faith Does faith have any future at all and if so where in all the confusion of today's trends will we discover its embryo But the problem of the future assails not only the believer In the ever more rapidly advancing process of historical evolution man is confronted with enormous opportunities but also with colossal perils For him the future is not only hope but sorrow a nightmare indeed He cannot avoid asking what part faith can play in building tomorrow's world Joseph Ratzinger now Pope Benedict XVI approaches this problem of universal concern from a variety of angles bringing his deep personal faith and theological brilliance to bear on these serious questions      Indian Missions Bartle Frere, 1873
