The Lives Of The Prophets:

The Lives of the Prophets Charles C. Torrey, 2020-10-27 The ancient Jewish traditions here published have not been as well known as they deserve to be Eberhard Nestle in his Marginalien und Materialien a work to which constant reference will be made in the following pages spoke of the neglect of this little collection of legends during more than a century and a half this was in 1893 The half century which has elapsed since that date has seen a most important advance in the scientific study of the Lives a gain which is largely the fruit of Nestle's own labors but is chiefly embodied in Theodor Schermann's admirable collection and presentation of the extant material All the hard work preliminary to an edition of the Greek text was thus accomplished

History of the Prophets Maulana Muhammad Ali, 2011-05-25 Deals with the lives of the prophets as they are given in the Holy Qur an The chief object is to remove the prevailing misconception that the Holy Qur an takes its narratives from the Bible or Jewish and Christian traditions For this purpose narratives in the Holy Qur an are contrasted with their versions in the Bible or Jewish and Christian traditions It will be found that wherever previous record has cast a slur on the character of a prophet the Holy Qur an has invariably vindicated it The Holy Book has further brought out facts which enhance the moral value of these narratives and removed defects and contradictions which have found way into sacred history due to manipulation of facts or carelessness in recording them This affords the clearest evidence that Divine Inspiration and not any previous record or tradition was the source from which the Prophet obtained information By doing away with the profanity of sacred history the Holy Qur an has rendered immense service to the Bible itself This is in accordance with its claim

Palestine David Satran, 1995 The Lives of the Prophets a series of brief biographical sketches of the major and minor prophets of the Hebrew Bible is a unique composition Generally held to be a Jewish document from the end of the period of the Second Temple the Lives offers an abundance of geographical genealogical and narrative detail which is not readily paralleled This study provides the first thorough assessment of the work in nearly a century A survey of the textual state of the composition and its reception is followed by a detailed examination of the literary structures which underlie the individual vitae It is argued that the Lives is an evolved heavily redacted document whose present form cannot predate the fourth century C E Only within the context of early Byzantine Christian concerns holy men sacred sites and the veneration of the saints does the Lives of the Prophets become a comprehensible and vital text
