The Lobo Outback Funeral Home Dave Foreman, 2004 The Lobo Outback Funeral Home A Novel by Dave Foreman Foreword by Doug Peacock Jack Hunter disillusioned and burned out on environmental activism after years as a Sierra Club lobbyist leaves Washington D C for southwestern New Mexico s Diablo National Forest Getting caught up in the bloody consequences of his cynicism he discovers the true cost of not taking a stand for what he loves Wild Nevada Roberta Moore, Scott Slovic, 2005-03-01 For many people beyond Nevada s borders the state is no more than the nation s desert dumping ground for dangerous waste Others know it only for its hedonistic centers of gambling and entertainment This scandal belies the extraordinary beauty and wonder of the state s wilderness areas and the precious natural aesthetic and cultural resources to be found there In Wild Nevada editors Roberta Moore and Scott Slovic have assembled twenty nine writers who know and love the Nevada wilderness to testify on its behalf Contributors include literary artists and scholars environmental and community activists leading politicians ranchers scientists and park rangers Some essays offer observations on the political and philosophical discussions of wilderness that heat up the halls of academia and Congress others recount moving personal encounters with wild places within Nevada and still others comment on the ambiguities of preserving wild places through wilderness designation But despite the eclectic backgrounds of the writers and their varied perspectives on public policy they are all united in their devotion to the ecological and aesthetic values of Nevada s threatened wilderness areas Foreword by Michael Frome Where the Wild Books Are Jim Dwyer, 2010-04-01 As interest in environmental issues grows many writers of fiction have embraced themes that explore the connections between humans and the natural world Ecologically themed fiction ranges from profound philosophical meditations to action packed entertainments Where the Wild Books Are offers an overview of nearly 2 000 works of nature oriented fiction The author includes a discussion of the precursors and history of the genre and of its expansion since the 1970s He also considers its forms and themes as well as the subgenres into which it has evolved such as speculative fiction ecodefense animal stories mysteries ecofeminist novels cautionary tales and others A brief summary and critical commentary of each title is included Dwyer s scope is broad and covers fiction by Native American writers as well as ecofiction from writers around the world Far more than a mere listing of books Where the Wild Books Are is a lively introduction to a vast universe of engaging provocative writing It can be used to develop book collections or curricula It also serves as an introduction to one of the most fertile areas of contemporary fiction presenting books that will offer enjoyable reading and new insights into the vexing environmental questions of our time Wild Earth, 2002 The Way of Natural History Thomas Lowe Fleischner, 2011-05-01 In this eclectic anthology more than 20 scientists nature writers poets and Zen practitioners attest to how paying attention to nature can be a healing antidote to the hectic and harrying pace of our lives Throughout this provocative and uplifting book writers describe their various experiences in nature and portray how careful and mindful attention to the larger world around us brings rewarding and surprising discoveries They give us the literary personal and spiritual stories that point a way toward calm and quiet for which many people today hunger Contributors to The Way of Natural History highlight their individual ways of paying attention to nature and discuss how their experiences have enlivened and enhanced their worlds The anthology is a rich array of writings that provide models for interacting with the natural world and together create a call for the importance of natural history as a discipline Spine of the Continent Mary Ellen Hannibal, 2013-08-06 As climate change encroaches natural habitats are shifting while human development makes islands of even the largest nature reserves stranding the biodiversity within them The Spine of the Continent profiles the most ambitious conservation effort ever made to create linked protected areas from the Yukon to Mexico Backed by blue ribbon scientific foundations the Spine is a grassroots cooperative effort among NGOs large and small and everyday citizens It aims not only to make physical connections so nature will persist but also to make connections between people and the land In this fascinating and important account Mary Ellen Hannibal travels the length of the Spine and shares stories of the impassioned activists she meets and the critters they love Wolves and the Wolf Myth in American Literature S.K. Robisch, 2009-05-28 The wolf is one of the most widely distributed canid species historically ranging throughout most of the Northern Hemisphere For millennia it has also been one of the most pervasive images in human mythology art and psychology Wolves and the Wolf Myth in American Literature examines the wolf's importance as a figure in literature from the perspectives of both the animal's physical reality and the ways in which writers imagine and portray it Author S K Robisch examines more than two hundred texts written in North America about wolves or including them as central figures From this foundation he demonstrates the wolf's role as an archetype in the collective unconscious its importance in our national culture and its ecological value Robisch takes a multidisciplinary approach to his study employing a broad range of sources myths and legends from around the world symbology classic and popular literature films the work of scientists in a number of disciplines human psychology and field work conducted by himself and others By combining the fundamentals of scientific study with close readings of wide ranging literary texts Robisch astutely analyzes the correlation between actual living wolves and their representation on the page and in the human mind He also considers the relationship between literary art and the natural world and argues for a new approach to literary study an ecocriticism that moves beyond anthropocentrism to examine the complicated relationship between humans and nature Wisdom for a Livable Planet Carl N. McDaniel, 2011-04-15 The author profiles the work of eight visionaries who have dedicated their lives to various environmental issues Each story provides a portrait of an individual's valiant and inspiring campaign to improve the conditions for life on our planet Taken together the work of these people points the way toward creating an ecologically centered civilization in which a brighter future for all life including human is possible Terri Swearingen takes on one of the world's largest hazardous waste incinerators burning toxic waste next door to an elementary school Stephen Schneider establishes the scientific basis for climate change Herman Daly advocates a dynamic steady state economy that respects the laws of nature and human behavior David Orr champions educational reform to make universities a place where students learn how to be environmentally aware citizens Werner Fornos works toward empowering every person with the knowledge and means to decide when and how many children to have Helena Norberg Hodge champions local living with appropriate technologies to enhance our spiritual and ecological well being Wes Jackson promotes sustainable agriculture based on local ecology and community values Dave Foreman leads the effort to rewild almost half of North America with wolves mountain lions jaguars falcons and others to restore functional ecosystems and preserve biodiversity Wild Earth Tom Butler, 2002 For more than a decade Wild Earth has dedicated itself to redefining the conservation movement Where once the goal was to set aside parks and preserves the emphasis now is on rewilding the land and connecting viable habitats across the continent In light of these ideas Wild Earths editor has collected the magazines most provocative articles and essays to date Contributors include Lyanda Haupt on bird extinction in Hawaii Pulitzer Prize winning poet Gary Snyder on the moral shallowness of developers Paul Martin and David Burney on the reintroduction of elephants to North America and Jose Knighton on eco porn the promotion of environments as static objects Encyclopedia of the Environment in American Literature Geoff Hamilton, Brian Jones, 2014-01-10 This encyclopedia introduces readers to American poetry fiction and nonfiction with a focus on the environment broadly defined as humanity s natural surroundings from the discovery of America through the present The work includes biographical and literary entries on material from early explorers and colonists such as Columbus Bartolome de Las Casas and Thomas Harriot Native American creation myths canonical 18th and 19th century works of Jefferson Emerson Thoreau Whitman Hawthorne Twain Dickinson and others to more recent figures such as Jack London Ernest Hemingway Norman Mailer Stanley Cavell Rachel Carson Jon Krakauer and Al Gore It is meant to provide a synoptic appreciation of how the very concept of the environment has changed over the past five centuries offering both a general introduction to the topic and a valuable resource for high school and university courses focused on environmental issues Rewilding North America Dave Foreman, 2004-07 In Rewilding North America Dave Foreman takes on arguably the biggest ecological threat of our time the global extinction crisis He not only explains the problem in clear and powerful terms but also offers a bold hopeful scientifically credible and practically achievable solution Foreman begins by setting out the specific evidence that a mass extinction is happening and analyzes how humans are causing it Adapting Aldo Leopold s idea of ecological wounds he details human impacts on species survival in seven categories including direct killing habitat loss and fragmentation exotic species and climate change Foreman describes recent discoveries in conservation biology that call for wildlands networks instead of isolated protected areas and reviewing the history of protected areas shows how wildlands networks are a logical next step for the conservation movement The final section describes specific approaches for designing such networks based on the work of the Wildlands Project an organization Foreman helped to found and offers concrete and workable reforms for establishing them The author closes with an inspiring and empowering call to action for scientists and activists alike Rewilding North America offers both a vision and a strategy for reconnecting restoring and rewilding the North American continent and is an essential guidebook for anyone concerned with the future of life on earth     Western American Literature ,2000     Forthcoming Books Rose Arny,2000     American Book Publishing Record ,2004     Alternative Press Index ,2001     Book Review Index ,2001 Every 3rd issue is a quarterly cumulation     The Laser Video Disc Companion Douglas Pratt,1992
