Lessons for Climate Change Adaptation from Better

Management of Rivers Jamie Pittock, 2015-02-13 Climate change is dramatically affecting freshwater supplies particularly in the developing world The papers in this volume present a powerful case for and exploration of different freshwater adaptation strategies in the face of global climatic change The volume centres on six detailed case studies from India China Mexico Brazil the lower Danube basin and Tanzania written by experienced local academics and practitioners They assess autonomous adaptation in the freshwater sector drawing out key lessons about what motivated these societies to change which factors led to more successful adaptation and how interventions may best be sustained The volume also contains a global overview of the lessons derived from these experiences It sheds light on two key theories that vulnerability to climate change is best reduced by reducing poverty and promoting sustainable development first or by reducing bio physical risks from climate change The publication also highlights the need to ensure that access to more precise climate change impact data is not used as an excuse to delay implementation of no regrets adaptation measures Environmental Security in Watersheds: The Sea of Azov Viktor Lagutov,2011-10-23 Watersheds supplying crucial ecosystem services to humans seem to be a logical territorial unit to integrate societal benefits and environmental needs in order to evaluate the sustainability of natural resource use patterns Based on this belief the book is an attempt to initiate a comprehensive environmental security assessment in the basin of the Azov Sea shared by Russia and Ukraine Though the region provides a variety of essential services and plays a strategic role in national and international development plans it has been excluded from most regional environmental discussions At the same time there is an alarming degradation rate of basin freshwater ecosystems that has occurred due to overutilization of certain prioritized services e g transportation The collapse of neglected services e g fishery and freshwater supply poses serious threats to the national economies as well as the local population and to mitigate these threats priority in water management should be given to securing sustainability of the regional freshwater ecosystems In addition to the review of the current status of Azov ecosystem services the authors analyze likely future availability and challenges The relevant experience derived from basin management of the Black Sea and other similar basins is also discussed
