Sleepwalk Other Stories:

Sleepwalk Adrian Tomine, 2022-06-27 Collecting the first four issues of Adrian Tomine's acclaimed comic series Optic Nerve this book offers sixteen concise haunting tales of modern life. The characters here appear to be well adjusted on the surface but Tomine takes us deeper into their lives subtly examining their struggle to connect with friends and lovers.

The Age of Infidelity and Other Stories Valerie Sayers, 2020-06-03 In the spirit of Muriel Spark and Walker Percy The Age of Infidelity's eleven stories embrace the comic, the absurd and the dead serious. Faithless parents betray their children, the young betray the old and lovers betray each other but somehow these characters cling to hope. Aging white cheerleaders shout through an online megaphone remembering a time when racial equality seemed almost possible; a teenager endures her father's abandonment as her mother's psychotic episodes pick up pace; an old couple on the lam from the Constitutional Guard of the future hides out in a garage reminiscent of our consumerist past. In an age many call post-religious these characters want to believe in something but they're not always sure what that something is. Set in landscapes from the small town South to New York City from a parched Midwest to a deserted Dublin these stories time travel from our Jim Crow past to an imagined future of warehouses for the aged where robots do the nursing. With what the Washington Post describes as her distinctive brutal elegance Valerie Sayers writes playfully, powerfully and musically. These stories form an album riffing on our age, The Age of Infidelity.

Sleepwalk Adrian Tomine, 2004-06 Worth reading just for Tomine's eloquent restraint and literary leanings. The Boston Phoenix Reader, I Buried Them and Other Stories Peter Lovesey, 2022-02-03 A twisty collection of short stories from the master of classic crime fiction Peter Lovesey, one of which stars his most popular creation Peter Diamond. More than fifty years ago Peter Lovesey published a short story in an anthology. That short story caught the eye of the great Ruth Rendell whose praise ignited Lovesey's life-long passion for short-form crime fiction. More than a hundred stories later Peter Lovesey has assembled this devilishly clever collection: fifteen yarns of mystery, melancholy and mischief inhabiting such deadly settings as a theatre, a monastery and the book-publishing industry. The collection includes that first story that launched his story-writing career as well as three new stories exclusive to this volume. In addition Lovesey fans will delight in a personal essay by the author about the historical inspirations for his creation and in an appearance by the irascible Bath detective Peter Diamond who has in the author's words bulldozed his way into this collection. Jailbait and Other Stories Brad Gooch, 1984 The ten stories in Brad Gooch's first book of prose are as contemporary as an overheard phone call. Don't expect complicated plots, in-depth conversations, moments of acute psychological analysis. Instead the author gives us a voyeuristic look at some tough people caught in private, slightly embarrassing moments. Seen as if through the windows of an apartment building, speaking the pared-down dialogue of a TV show or movie, Gooch's spare, hesitant, factual, sensual, polished, allows the primitive storytelling back in: we feel the propelling undertow of his characters' desires and impulses. Jailbait and Other Stories is unquestionably a text of an era for the Eighties. Moon-Face & Other Stories &

Belonging and Narrative Laura Bieger, 2018-11-09 Why did the novel become so popular in the past three centuries and how did the American novel contribute to this trend As a key provider of the narrative frames and formulas needed by modern individuals to give meaning and mooring to their lives Drawing on phenomenological hermeneutics human geography and social psychology Laura Bieger contends that belonging is not a given it is continuously produced by narrative Against the current emphasis on metaphors of movement and destabilization she explores the salience and significance of home Challenging views of narrative as a mechanism of ideology she approaches narrative as a practical component of dwelling in the world and the novel a primary place making agent
