The Literary Channel The Inter National Invention Of The Novel:

The Literary Channel Margaret Cohen,Carolyn Dever,2002-01-15 In the Channel zone the novel developed through interactions among texts readers writers and translators that inextricably linked national literary cultures It served as a forum to promote and critique nationalist cliches whether from the standpoint of Enlightenment cosmopolitanism the insurgent nationalism of colonized spaces or the non nationalized culture of consumption In the process the Channel zone promoted codes that became the genre s hallmarks including the sentimental poetics that would shape fiction through the nineteenth century A Companion to the English Novel Stephen Arata, Madigan Haley, J. Paul Hunter, Jennifer Wicke, 2019-01-29 This collection of authoritative essays represents the latest scholarship on topics relating to the themes movements and forms of English fiction while chronicling its development in Britain from the early 18th century to the present day Comprises cutting edge research currently being undertaken in the field incorporating the most salient critical trends and approaches Explores the history evolution genres and narrative elements of the English novel Considers the advancement of various literary forms including such genres as realism romance Gothic experimental fiction and adaptation into film Includes coverage of narration structure character and affect shifts in critical reception to the English novel and geographies of contemporary English fiction Features contributions from a variety of distinguished and high profile literary scholars along with emerging younger critics Includes a comprehensive scholarly bibliography of critical works on and about the novel to aid further reading and research

Richardson and the Philosophes James Fowler,2017-07-05 In mid eighteenth century Europe a taste for sentiment accompanied the rise of the novel and the success of Samuel Richardson 1689 1761 played a vital role in this James Fowler s new study is the first to compare the response of the most famous philosophes to the Richardson phenomenon Voltaire who claims to despise the novel writes four Richardsonian fictions Diderot s fascination with the English author is expressed in La Religieuse Rousseau s in Julie the century s bestseller Yet the philosophes response remains ambivalent On the one hand they admire Richardson s ability to make the reader weep On the other they champion a range of Enlightenment beliefs which he an enthusiast of Milton vehemently opposed In death as in life the English author exacerbates the philosophes rivalry The eulogy which Diderot writes in 1761 implicitly asks who can write a new Clarissa But also whose social philosophical or political ideas will triumph as a result The Cambridge History of European Romantic Literature Patrick Vincent, 2023-11-09 This wide ranging new history of European Romantic Literature presents a pan European phenomenon which transcended national borders and contributed to a new sense of European cultural identity across the continent Conceived in the same spirit as Madame de Sta l s cultural and political agenda at a time when her generous idea of Europe is being challenged on all sides the volume pays close attention to the period s circulation of people ideas and texts It proposes to rethink the period comparatively focusing on various forms of cultural mediation and transfer and on productive tensions synchronicities and interactions within and across borders Organized chronologically its twenty chapters address over five hundred works proposing a coherent historical narrative without completely erasing individual nations specificities By showcasing in particular the place of Britain within continental culture the volume hopes to reactivate critical examinations of Romanticism from a historicised European perspective

Gender and Space in British Literature, 1660-1820 Mona Narain, Karen Gevirtz, 2016-04-15

Between 1660 and 1820 Great Britain experienced significant structural transformations in class politics economy print and writing that produced new and varied spaces and with them new and reconfigured concepts of gender In mapping the relationship between gender and space in British literature of the period this collection defines charts and explores new cartographies both geographic and figurative The contributors take up a variety of genres and discursive frameworks from this period including poetry the early novel letters and laboratory notebooks written by authors ranging from Aphra Behn Hortense Mancini and Isaac Newton to Frances Burney and Germaine de Sta l Arranged in three groups Inside Outside and Borderlands the essays conduct targeted literary analysis and explore the changing relationship between gender and different kinds of spaces in the long eighteenth century In addition a set of essays on Charlotte Smith s novels and a set of essays on natural philosophy offer case studies for exploring issues of gender and space within larger fields such as an author s oeuvre or a particular discourse Taken together the essays demonstrate space s agency as a complement to historical change as they explore how literature delineates the gendered redefinition occupation negotiation inscription and creation of new spaces crucially contributing to the construction of new cartographies in eighteenth and early nineteenth century England

The Princeton Sourcebook in Comparative Literature David Damrosch, Natalie Melas, Mbongiseni Buthelezi, 2009

Key essays on comparative literature from the eighteenth century to today As comparative literature reshapes itself in today s globalizing age it is essential for students and teachers to look deeply into the discipline s history and its present possibilities The Princeton Sourcebook in Comparative Literature is a wide ranging anthology of classic essays and important recent statements on the mission and methods of comparative literary studies This pioneering collection brings together thirty two pieces from foundational statements by Herder Madame de Sta l and Nietzsche to work by a range of the most influential comparatists writing today including Lawrence Venuti Gayatri Chakravorty Spivak and Franco Moretti

Gathered here are manifestos and counterarguments essays in definition and debates on method by scholars and critics from the United States Europe Asia Africa and Latin America giving a unique overview of comparative study in the words of some of its most important practitioners With selections extending from the beginning of comparative study through the years of intensive theoretical inquiry and on to contemporary discussions of the world's literatures The Princeton Sourcebook in Comparative Literature helps readers navigate a rapidly evolving discipline in a dramatically changing world
