Composing for the State Esteban Buch, Igor Contreras Zubillaga, Manuel Deniz Silva, 2016-01-27 Under the dictatorships of the twentieth century music never ceased to sound Even when they did not impose aesthetic standards these regimes tended to favour certain kinds of art music such as occasional works for commemorations or celebrations symphonic poems cantatas and choral settings In the same way composers who were more or less ideologically close to the regime wrote pieces of music on their own initiative which amounted to a support of the political order This book presents ten studies focusing on music inspired and promoted by regimes such as Nazi Germany Fascist Italy France under Vichy the USSR and its satellites Franco's Spain Salazar's Portugal Maoist China and Latin American dictatorships By discussing the musical works themselves whether they were conceived as ways to provide music for the people to personally honour the dictator or to participate in State commemorations of glorious historical events the book examines the relationship between the composers and the State This important volume therefore addresses theoretical issues long neglected by both musicologists and historians What is the relationship between art music and propaganda How did composers participate in musical life under the control of an authoritarian State What was specifically political in the works produced in these contexts How did audiences react to them Can we speak confidently about State music In this way Composing for the State Music in Twentieth Century Dictatorships is an essential contribution to our understanding of musical cultures of the twentieth century as well as the symbolic policies of dictatorial regimes      United States Army Aviation Digest, 1978      Flying, 1997-07      Aerial Age Weekly, 1922      The Harvard Graduates' Magazine William Roscoe Thayer, 1911      Aero and Hydro, 1914      The Far Eastern Review, 1920      Literary Digest, 1915      Aircraft United States. Conceived in 1953 in a chickenwire covered cubicle known as the advanced design cage at McDonnell Aircraft the F 4 Phantom II fighter bomber was produced for 25 years serving a full workload in Vietnam for the Navy Marines and Air Force and surviving through the 1990s in the air arms of eleven nations While most case studies of modern aircraft focus on the many ways the military industrial complex goes wrong this trenchant invigorating study looks deeper at how those who built the complex intended it to work Step by step the reader discovers how the relationships among parts systems procedures economies and missions were shaped by relationships among people scientists engineers testers program managers subcontractors military strategists pilots and corporate leaders Drawing on exhaustive research including interviews with key players the author makes a major advance in the burgeoning body of literature on technology management by showing how McDonnell worked through the problems of technical integration that plagued defense engineering in the 1960s and 1970s and led to programs full of complexity It is as much a study of how aircraft manufacturers and military officers went about their business as it is a life and times history of an important aircraft
