black and white illustrations From the introduction This book contains the 272 complete pages of a weekly newspaper which in fact wasn't a newspaper but a unique method of chronicling this nation's years of most poignant agony For more than five years The Atlanta Century ran as a page of The Atlanta GA Journal Constitution each Sunday The Century appeared as the front page of a newspaper as it might have looked more than a century ago      The Atlanta Century Norman Michael Dobbins, Leon S. Eplan & Randal Roark, 2021 The summer of 1996 In nineteen days six million visitors jostled about in a southern city grappling with white flight urban decay and the stifling legacy of Jim Crow Six years earlier a bold audacious partnership of a strong mayor enlightened business leaders and Atlanta's Black political leadership dared to bid on hosting the 1996 Olympic Games Unexpectedly the city won an achievement that ignited a loose but robust coalition that worked collectively if sometimes contentiously to prepare the city and push it forward This is a story of how once struggling Atlanta leveraged the benefits of the Centennial Games to become a city of international prominence This improbable rise from the ashes is told by three urban planning professionals who were at the center of the story Back cover      The Century

1965 , 1981      Joseph E. Johnston: A Civil War Biography Craig L. Symonds, 1994-06-17 Riveting A thoughtful biography
New York Times Book Review General Joseph E Johnston was in command of Confederate forces at the South's first victory Manassas in July 1861 and at its last Bentonville in April 1965 Many of his contemporaries considered him the greatest southern field commander of the war others ranked him second only to Robert E Lee But Johnston was an enigmatic man His battlefield victories were never decisive He failed to save Confederate forces under siege by Grant at Vicksburg and he retreated into Georgia in the face of Sherman's march His intense feud with Jefferson Davis ensured the collapse of the Confederacy's western campaign in 1864 and made Johnston the focus of a political schism within the government Now in this rousing narrative of Johnston's dramatic career Craig L Symonds gives us the first rounded portrait of the general as a public and private man      The Atlanta Century, March 1960-May 1965 , 1981      Southern Architect , 1899      Century
