playing field analysis of sports stadiums and their impact on our cities and our lives      Highway Robbery Robert Doyle Bullard, Glenn Steve Johnson, Angel O. Torres, 2004 Firmly places transportation equity at the center of the ongoing civil rights struggle for equal opportunity      American Muslim Women Jamillah Karim, 2009 Focusing on women who sometimes move outside of their ethnic Muslim space and interact with other Muslim ethnic groups in search of gender justice this ethnographic study of African American and South Asian immigrant Muslims in Chicago and Atlanta explores how Islamic ideas of racial harmony and equality create hopeful possibilities in an American society that remains challenged by race and class inequalities Page 4 of cover      The Diaspora of Brazilian Religions , 2013-03-27 The Diaspora of Brazilian Religions explores the global spread of religions originating in Brazil a country that has emerged as a major pole of religious innovation and production Through ethnographically rich case studies throughout the world ranging from the Americas Canada the U S Peru and Argentina and Europe the U K Portugal and the Netherlands to Asia Japan and Oceania Australia the book examines the conditions actors and media that have made possible the worldwide construction circulation and consumption of Brazilian religious identities practices and lifestyles including those connected with indigenized forms of Pentecostalism and Catholicism African based religions such as Candomblé and Umbanda as well as diverse expressions of New Age Spiritism and Ayahuasca centered neo shamanism like Vale do Amanhecer and Santo Daime Contributors include Ushi Arakaki Dario Paulo Barrera Rivera Brenda Carranza Anthony D Andrea Sara Delamont Alejandro Frigerio Alberto Groisman Annick Hernandez Clara Mafra Cecilia Mariz Deirdre Meintel Carmen Rial Cristina Rocha Camila Sampaio Clara Saraiva Olivia Sheringham Neil Stephens Jos Cláudio Souza Alves Claudia Swatowski and Manuel A Viquez      Cities of Knowledge Margaret O'Mara, 2005 What is the magic formula for turning a place into a high tech capital How can a city or region become a high tech powerhouse like Silicon Valley For over half a century through boom times and bust business leaders and politicians have tried to become the next Silicon Valley but few have succeeded This book examines why high tech development became so economically important late in the twentieth century and why its magic formula of people jobs capital and institutions has been so difficult to replicate Margaret O'Mara shows that high tech regions are not simply accidental market creations but cities of knowledge planned communities of scientific production that were shaped and subsidized by the original venture capitalist the Cold War defense complex At the heart of the story is the American research university an institution enriched by Cold War spending and actively engaged in economic development The story of the city of knowledge broadens our understanding of postwar urban history and of the relationship between civil society and the state in late twentieth century America It leads us to further redefine the American suburb as being much more than formless sprawl and shows how it is in fact the ultimate post industrial city Understanding this history and geography is essential to planning for the future of the high tech economy and this book is must reading for anyone interested in building the next Silicon Valley      Atlanta Paradox David L. Sjoquist, 2002-09-05 Despite the rapid creation of jobs in the greater Atlanta region poverty in the city itself remains surprisingly high and Atlanta's economic boom has yet to play a significant role in narrowing the gap between the suburban rich and the city poor This book investigates the key factors underlying this paradox The authors show that the legacy of past residential segregation as well as the more recent phenomenon of urban sprawl both work against inner city blacks Many remain concentrated near traditional black neighborhoods south of the city center and face prohibitive commuting distances now that jobs have migrated to outlying northern suburbs The book also presents some promising signs Few whites still hold overt negative stereotypes of blacks and both whites and blacks would prefer to live in more integrated neighborhoods The emergence of a dynamic black middle class and the success of many black owned businesses in the area also give the authors reason to hope that racial inequality will not remain entrenched in a city where so much else has changed A Volume in the Multi City Study of Urban Inequality     Not Here, Not Now, Not That! Steven J. Tepper, 2011-06-15 In the late 1990s Angels in America Tony Kushner's epic play about homosexuality and AIDS in the Reagan era toured the country inspiring protests in a handful of cities while others received it warmly Why do people fight over some works of art but not others Not Here Not Now Not That examines a wide range of controversies over films books paintings sculptures clothing music and television in dozens of cities across the country to find out what turns personal offense into public protest What Steven J Tepper discovers is that these protests are always deeply rooted in local concerns Furthermore they are essential to the process of working out our differences in a civil society To explore the local nature of public protests in detail Tepper analyzes cases in seventy one cities including an in depth look at Atlanta in the late 1990s finding that debates there over memorials public artworks books and parades served as a way for Atlantans to develop a vision of the future at a time of rapid growth and change Eschewing simplistic narratives that reduce public protests to political maneuvering Not Here Not Now Not That at last provides the social context necessary to fully understand this fascinating phenomenon     Place Matters Peter Dreier, John H. Mollenkopf, Todd Swanstrom, 2004 Analyzes the problematic trends facing America's cities and older suburbs and challenges us to put America's urban crisis back on the national agenda     Crime in the City Lesley Williams Reid, 2003 By exploring the political and economic histories of Atlanta Boston Detroit and New Orleans the author documents how each city experienced the demise of the industrial welfare state political economy and the rise of the post industrial absentee state political economy and how these transformations have affected urban crime rates In addition those cities emphasizing criminal justice expenditures at the expense of social welfare expenditures have had more crime than those cities that did not Political and economic conditions have influenced crime rates in sometimes surprising ways across the post World War II urban landscape     The Nation , 1882     Journal of Economic Literature , 2002     The Black Metropolis in the Twenty-First Century Robert D. Bullard, 2007-05-10 This book brings together key essays that seek to make visible and expand our understanding of the role of government policies programs and investments in shaping cities and metropolitan regions the costs and consequences of uneven urban and regional growth patterns suburban sprawl and public health transportation and economic development and the enduring connection of place space and race in the era of increased globalization Whether intended or unintended many government policies housing transportation land use environmental economic development education etc have aided and in some cases subsidized suburban sprawl job flight and spatial mismatch concentrated urban poverty and heightened racial and economic disparities Written mostly by African American scholars the book captures the dynamism of these meetings describing the challenges facing cities suburbs and metropolitan regions as they seek to address continuing and emerging patterns of racial polarization in the twenty first century The book clearly shows that the United States entered the new millennium as one of the wealthiest and the most powerful nations on earth Yet amid this prosperity our nation is faced with some of the same challenges that confronted it at the beginning of the twentieth century including rising inequality in income wealth and opportunity economic restructuring immigration pressures and ethnic tension and a widening gap between haves and have nots Clearly race matters Place also matters Where we live impacts the quality of our lives and chances for the good life
