Teacher Education for Diversity Elizabeth Walton, Ruksana Osman, 2018-02-19

Foregrounding the diversity that characterises various educational settings, this book discusses how histories and geographies of oppression, exclusion and marginalisation have impacted on teacher education. Contributors draw on first hand experiences of living and working in countries including Brazil, China, South Africa, New Zealand and Malawi. Positioned in a geographical and metaphorical Global South, the book draws critical attention to debates which have been otherwise marginalised in relation to those conducted in the Global North. Chapters address difference and diversity on both a conceptual and empirical level, acknowledging the significance of various global trends including increased migration and urbanisation, and broadening understandings of race, religion, gender, sexuality and disability. Taken together, these chapters reveal the extent of the work which still remains to be done in the field of teacher education for diversity. The issues discussed are of global significance, making this text key reading for teachers, teacher educators and those concerned with the advancement of social justice and reduction of inequality through education.

Self-Study and Diversity III, 2021-11-15

In Self Study and Diversity III, the authors examine the self study of teacher education practices at a time when inclusion and diversity are being questioned. Authors of various backgrounds and identities draw on their own experiences to examine the challenges of preparing teachers. They address issues of identity, equity, diversity, inclusion and social justice through experiential and pedagogical lenses as they navigate the complexities of teacher education in challenging times. Particular strengths are its explorations of intersectionality, attention to the present context and the diversity of these collected voices.

Challenges of Multicultural Education Norah Peters-Davis, Jeffrey Shultz, 2015-12-03

The voices of college students and teachers vividly enlighten readers about the real world challenges of multicultural education. Courses on diversity abound in American universities today. But open classroom discussion of racial and gender differences can evoke discomfort as much as new understandings. Negotiating these courses takes a toll on both faculty and students as classrooms become filled with emotion. Based on student and teacher experience in a range of American colleges and universities, this book shows how to meet these challenges and create a truly open and beneficial environment. The authors demonstrate pedagogical strategies and new approaches. A vital resource for teachers, students, college administrators and university libraries.
