Sociocultural Competence in Language Learning and Teaching Michael Byram, Geneviève Zarate, Gerhard Neuner, 1997 Learning Culture and Language through ICTs: Methods for Enhanced Instruction Chang, Maiga, Kuo, Chen-Wo, 2009-05-31 This book offers readers an authoritative reference to the current progress of Chinese language and cultural e learning Provided by publisher Teaching-and-learning Language-and-culture Michael Byram, 1994-01-01 Offers some theoretical innovations in teaching foreign languages and reports how they have been applied to curriculum development and experimental courses at the upper secondary and college levels Approaches language learning as comprising several dimensions including grammatical competence change in attitudes learning about another culture and reflecting on one's own Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR Culture and Foreign Language Education Wai Meng Chan, Sunil Kumar Bhatt, Masanori Nagami, Izumi Walker, 2015-07-31 The teaching of culture and interculturality is today viewed as an integral part of foreign language education This book presents insights from recent research on the role of culture in second foreign and heritage language education It contains 14 chapters including an introductory chapter that discusses diachronically the evolving notion of culture and how the sociocultural view of culture as a complex and dynamic concept informs language teaching and language learning research The chapters following the introduction are organised in four parts focusing on 1 the teacher's role in integrated language and culture learning 2 the interrelationship between culture identity and language learning and use 3 the effect of culture on learner characteristics which impact language learning processes and outcomes and 4 curriculum development aimed at fostering language and culture learning The chapters in Parts 1 to 3 present contributions from current research either in the form of the authors original studies or comprehensive reviews of relevant essential research which bears important implications for curricular practice in foreign language and language teacher education This close link between research theory and practice is also maintained in the two chapters in Part 4 which present developmental projects based on well grounded theoretical frameworks Intercultural Language Teaching and Learning Anthony J. Liddicoat, Angela Scarino, 2013-04-22 This wide ranging survey of issues in intercultural language teaching and learning covers everything from core concepts to program evaluation and advocates a fluid responsive approach to teaching language that reflects its central role in fostering intercultural understanding Includes coverage of theoretical issues defining language culture and communication as well as practice driven issues such as classroom interactions technologies programs and language assessment Examines systematically the components of language teaching language itself meaning culture learning communicating and assessments and puts them in social and cultural context Features numerous examples throughout drawn from various languages international contexts and frameworks Incorporates a decade of in depth research and detailed documentation from the authors collaborative work with practicing teachers Provides a much needed addition to the sparse literature on intercultural aspects of language education

Cultural Learning Styles in Language Education Lynne N. Li,2022-05-25 This book presents a nuanced look at the relationship between language learning styles and culture to illuminate how these important constructs are understood employed and play out in the real world Through the lens of different learning style dimensions cognitive affective process centred environment centred and cultural Li unpacks and examines the commonly accepted tensions between learning styles culture teacher assumptions and teaching approaches With a focus on Asian learning styles and Chinese learners Li addresses the past and current debates and reconceptualises the roles and tensions between students learning students cultural backgrounds and teaching styles Li adeptly navigates this controversial arena to demystify preconceptions and provide avenues for innovative and effective classroom practices in language teaching Ideal for pre service ESL EFL teachers researchers and scholars this book bridges the gap between research and practice on culture and language learning in the classroom

Context and Culture in Language Teaching and Learning Michael Byram,Peter Grundy,2003 The chapters in this book all address the significance of the relationship between the aims and methods of language teaching and the contexts in which it takes place Some consider the implications for the ways in which we research language teaching others present the results of research and development work

Context and Culture in Language Teaching Claire Kramsch,1993-06-17 This book takes cultural knowledge in language learning not only as a necessary aspect of communicative competence but as an educational objective in its own right If the aim of foreign language education is to foster cross cultural awareness and self realization language pedagogy needs to come to grips with a range of fundamental issues what do we mean by cultural context Can discourse practices be taught like rules of grammar What role does literature play in the development of second language literacy How can learners acquire both an insider's and an outsider's understanding of the foreign culture as expressed through its language By exploring these and other issues the book can help language teachers reflect on their profession and place it within its larger societal and educational context In turn they can help learners become not only skilful users of the language but also active architects of a new cross cultural world order

Teaching of Culture in English as an International Language Shen Chen,Thuy Thi Le,2018-08-06 The importance of integrating the teaching and learning of language and culture has been widely recognised and emphasized However how to teach English as an International Language EIL and cultures in an integrative way in non native English speaking countries remains problematic and has largely failed to enable language learners to meet local and global communication demands Developing students intercultural competence is one of the key missions of teaching cultures This book examines a range of well established models and paradigms from both English speaking and non English speaking countries Exploring questions of why what and how to best teach cultures the authors propose an integrated model to suit non native English contexts in the Asia Pacific The chapters deal with other critical issues such as the relationship between language and power the importance of power relations in communication the relationship between teaching cultures and national interests and balancing tradition and change in the era of globalisation The book will be valuable to academics and students of foreign language education particularly those teaching English as an international language in non native English countries

Aspects of Culture in Second Language Acquisition and Foreign Language Learning Janusz Arabski, Adam

Wojtaszek, 2011-08-27 In recent years language learning has been increasingly viewed by some SLA researchers as an essentially social psychological process in which the role of a wider sociocultural context should not be marginalized This volume offers a valuable contribution to this growing body of research by providing theoretical considerations and empirical research data on themes such as the development of intercultural communicative competence the role of English as a lingua franca in intercultural communication and the place of cultural factors in SLA theorizing research second foreign language teaching and teacher training The volume also contains contributions which share the linguistic interest in the culture related concepts and constructs such as time modesty politeness and respect discussing the culture dependent differences in conceptualization and their reflection in particular language forms and linguistic devices

Culture and Foreign Language Education Wai Meng Chan, Sunil Kumar Bhatt, Masanori Nagami, Izumi Walker, 2015-07-31

The teaching of culture and interculturality is today viewed as an integral part of foreign language education This book presents insights from recent research on the role of culture in second foreign and heritage language education It contains 14 chapters including an introductory chapter that discusses diachronically the evolving notion of culture and how the sociocultural view of culture as a complex and dynamic concept informs language teaching and language learning research The chapters following the introduction are organised in four parts focusing on 1 the teacher's role in integrated language and culture learning 2 the interrelationship between culture identity and language learning and use 3 the effect of culture on learner characteristics which impact language learning processes and outcomes and 4 curriculum development aimed at fostering language and culture learning The chapters in Parts 1 to 3 present contributions from current research either in the form of the authors original studies or comprehensive reviews of relevant essential research which bears important implications for curricular practice in foreign language and language teacher education This close link between research theory and practice is also maintained in the two chapters in Part 4 which present developmental projects based on well grounded theoretical frameworks

Culture in Language Learning Hanne Leth Andersen, 2006-05-01 Classical and modern foreign language studies no longer have a well defined subject area and language and culture can no longer be defined according to nations and national identities New approaches are being developed with theoretical and methodological points of departure in new areas of research for example culture studies anthropology sociology pragmatics and conversation analyses The aim of modern language studies must therefore be redefined and be more open for variation and diversity both in culture and communication The book discusses the relation between language and culture and is a direct result of the conference Culture in Language Learning organised under the auspices of the Danish Language and Culture Network which assembles researchers from language disciplines in Denmark. The aim is to examine how culture comes into the actual language code into the use of language and not least into the learning and teaching of language. One of the book's main problematic areas thus concerns the learning and teaching of foreign and second languages in a globalised world where languages play a new role both for the individual person by virtue of internationalisation of education and work life and for cooperation across national borders. The articles elucidate these problematic points in relation to the historic development of foreign language disciplines, the meeting of language and culture teaching traditions and language appropriation theories. Theory and Practice in Second Language Teacher Identity Karim Sadeghi, Farah Ghaderi, 2022-09-16. This book brings together the current theory research and practical perspectives from different parts of the world on language teacher identity in an attempt to better understand the nature of identities teachers in different contexts develop. By linking theory to pedagogy the book examines how second language teacher identities are shaped and explores the various links between teacher identities and variables that affect the formation of identities. Theory and Practice in Second Language Teacher Identity includes a foreword by Jack Richards University of Sydney and RELC an afterword by Peter de Costa Michigan State University and holds 20 invited chapters by established and active scholars and teacher educators to discuss the various aspects of in-service and pre-service second language teacher identity development. It also addresses the way the COVID 19 pandemic has impacted teacher identities and examines under-researched issues such as the intersection between gender and race in second language teacher identity development and identity construction in second languages other than English. What does it mean to be a teacher of English as a second language in an age of globalization new media technological revolution and de-institutionalized knowledge? How do teachers gain pre-service and in-service expertise a sense of professional identity and educational integrity? And how have they dealt with the extra burden imposed by the pandemic? This thought-provoking volume offers valuable perspectives on these important issues in the professional development of English teachers worldwide. Prof Claire Kramsch University of California Berkeley USA. The way we see ourselves and are seen by others influences our social and professional interactions. Teacher identity and sense of agency is therefore not merely a matter of research interest for it impacts learners and learning which makes the topic of this book extremely important. With chapters located in a wide range of countries from USA to Australia via UAE Thailand and others and drawing on a variety of research methods the book synthesizes extant research and develops many new research avenues. It does so not only with theory in mind but with practical lessons for teachers and teacher educators and thus becomes an essential volume for our libraries and studies. Prof Michael Byram University of Durham UK. In this compelling collection co-edited by Karim Sadeghi and Farah Ghaderi the authors address key questions about language teacher identity in contemporary applied linguistics. What is the relationship between language teacher identity and language teacher agency? To what extent does ideology impact language teacher identity? How do language teachers navigate an increasingly globalized and unequal world? Authors from different regions of the world draw on diverse methodologies to share insightful research on both pre service and in service language teacher identity making an important contribution to applied linguistics and TESOL at a time of great social and educational change Prof Bonny Norton FRSC University Killam Professor and Distinguished University Scholar University of British Columbia Canada Theory and Practice in Second Language Teacher Identity captures recent thinking about language teacher identity The broad array of excellent chapter contributions explores multiple dimensions of identity from teacher agency and emotions to the disruptive effects of the Covid pandemic on teachers professional lives and practices The studies draw on a number of theoretical perspectives and demonstrate the use of both familiar and innovative research methodologies The relevant topics the up to date bibliographic sources and the useful research findings make this edited volume an essential addition to your bookshelf Prof Gary Barkhuizen University of Auckland New Zealand

Cultural Education - Cultural Sustainability Zvi Bekerman,Ezra Kopelowitz,2008-02-06 This volume is a path breaking contribution to the study of efforts of diaspora indigenous and minority groups broadly defined to use education formal and informal to sustain cultural continuity while grappling with the influences and demands of wider globalizing nationalizing or other homogenizing and assimilatory forces Particular attention is given to groups that use educational elements other than second language teaching alone in programs to sustain their particular cultural traditions The focus of the book on cultural sustainability changes the nature of questions posed in multicultural education from those that address the opening of boundaries to issues of preserving boundaries in an open yet sustainable way As forced and elective immigration trends are changing the composition of societies and the educational systems within them bringing a rich diversity of cultural experience to the teaching learning process diaspora indigenous and minority groups are looking more and more for ways to sustain their cultures in the context of wider socio political influences This volume is a first opportunity to consider critically multicultural efforts in dialogue with educational options that are culturally particularistic but at the same time tolerant Academics will find this an excellent reference book Practitioners will draw inspiration in learning of others efforts to sustain cultures and will engage in critical reflection on their own work vis vis that of others Teachers will realize they do not stand alone in their educational efforts and will uncover new strategies and methodologies through which to approach their work

English Language Education for Graduate Employability in Vietnam Tran Le Huu Nghia,Ly Thi Tran,Mai Tuyet Ngo,2023-09-15 This open access book examines the teaching and learning of English for employability in Vietnamese higher education Its content is framed within one country to better examine the research issues within the influence of contextual factors This book investigates how English can contribute to the development of students employability capitals particularly in the aspects of human capital social capital cultural capital identity capital and psychological capital It presents employers and employees perspectives of how and why English is increasingly important for career development This book is a collection of discussions and viewpoints from teachers students and other stakeholders like employers graduates and course coordinators on current practices and their proposed improvements to prepare students for their future education work and life Based on empirical evidence this book calls for repositioning English language education within the employability agenda to elevate its status and increase stakeholders engagement This book contributes to current debates on advancing the effectiveness of English language education in non English speaking countries as a response to internationalization and globalization

Teaching Language, Learning Culture Richard M. Swiderski,1993-07-30 Whenever a new language is learned a new culture is also learned Swiderski provides instructive examples of language learning situations by describing multilingual events using more than twenty of the world s languages All aspects of language learning from the physical environment of the classroom to the perceptions of events and emotions that languages express are considered Australian aboriginal languages and Native American languages are analyzed to illustrate the world of differences of which English Chinese and Russian are also a part The politics of language teaching and the effect of language policy in the classroom are brought out in concrete examples This study will be of interest to language teachers and the general international community as well

The Relations between Vietnamese EFL Students' and Teachers' Language Learning Beliefs Truong Sa Nguyen,2013-08-19 This book examines the relationships between foreign language learning beliefs and learning preferences of two English language learners and the beliefs and teaching practices of two Native English speaking teachers in the EFL context In such an environment the learners were not satisfied with learning English in their public school they paid a great deal of money to attend a private school and had many expectations regarding the course and the teachers On the other hand the teachers had to satisfy their students without any personal experience in learning English as a foreign language Practically the book will help private schools and other similar contexts to enhance their competitiveness in the market and serve their learners better In addition the book will also help EFL teachers to raise their awareness of the nature and effects of the relationship between teachers and students beliefs Theoretically this book contributes to the current literature on this subject by relating not only learners beliefs and preferences but also teachers beliefs with their on going practices

Teaching Languages and Cultures Nina Lazarević,Ljiljana Marković,Tatjana Paunović,2019-01-23 This volume offers diverse perspectives on language and culture teaching explored against the background of a fast paced globalized world of increased mobility and opportunity While teachers are pressed to reinvent and adapt the existing teaching practices researchers are invited to conduct studies with a view of implementing the findings in the classroom practice This collection presents discussions of different aspects of foreign language instruction language skills and learning strategies and foreign languages in professional contexts as well as the role of intercultural competence in language teaching and teacher education Offering insights into a variety of foreign language and culture teaching contexts throughout Europe this volume will be of interest to researchers and practitioners in applied linguistics and language and culture teaching methodology including both experienced and novice language teachers in the Balkan region and beyond the 21st Century Iris Guske, 2009-03-26 With contributions from scholars and practitioners in the fields of education literacy literature media communication and cultural studies from all five continents the present volume focuses on themes of pressing importance in today's globalized community. By giving voice to educators committed to excellence in teaching from primary school to university the book introduces the reader to a plurality of approaches to and applications of up to date theories in the fields of cognition language acquisition intercultural communication and technology based distance education to name but a few. Though situated in a concrete educational context be it a Chinese EFL classroom in transition an online MBA course offered in post Communist Romania or a U.S. university utilizing community elders as a pedagogical tool each paper was selected on the universal value of its findings which professionals facing the challenges of 21st century pedagogy will find readily applicable in classrooms worldwide. Since teaching paradigms are strongly culture bound and influenced by national policies as much as international politics this book represents a maximum of diversity by including philosophical texts hands on research results and articles in the critical discourse tradition which reflect a number of contentious issues ranging from the pros and cons of dual language classrooms to potentially racist literature curricula and the intersection of politics and pedagogy in a post September 11 world. Identity and Second Language Learning Miguel Mantero, 2006-12-13 This volume explores the concept of identity in second language studies highlighting diverse research on community instructors students language immersion pop culture religion code switching and media. Contributions from various countries provide an international perspective.
