The Bedouins Of Arabia:

THE BEDOUINS OF ARABIA Thierry Mauger, 2020 To what extent is our civilization likely to affect Arabia's nomads the Bedouins? How is it likely to alter their customs and their traditional way of life? To shed some light on the lifestyle, the dignity and the spirit of these desert people, the author and his wife Danielle lead us forty years after the famous explorer Wilfred Thesiger on the edge of the mountains and the dunes of the Rub al Khali, the largest sandy desert in the world. Unique photographs illustrate their seven year long adventure sharing the everyday life of different tribes and their enduring friendships with these remarkable men, their womenfolk and children. In this account of their travels, the reader is given an insight into the courage and tenacity indispensable to such a difficult and sensitive endeavour. Throughout the world, the nomadic way of life is in danger. Going beyond the life of the Bedouins, the author shows the impact of modernity on traditional societies. The destiny of these people is under threat. He appeals to us to grant them our long overdue respect.

Bedouins of the Empty Quarter Donald Powell Cole, This volume describes Bedouins a tribal pastoral people in eastern Saudi Arabia This volume documents changes in their way of life beginning in the 1930s and continuing to the 1960s when this book originally appeared The Empty Quarter described here is a place inhabited by a people so thoroughly devoted to their pastoral pursuits that they are referred to as nomads of the nomads To the Al Murrah and other camel keeping pastoralists there is a rich and rewarding life. For either to survive men and camels must live in close symbiosis. The camels provide food fiber and transport; man provides knowledge of available resources of which the most precious are water and the grasses that grow where rains have fallen. In this work Donald Powell Cole shows us that this existence is more complex and intricate. There is the complex knowledge of the desert itself, its varieties, moods and resources. Next there is the knowledge of the camels, their needs, capacities and the peculiarities of each animal. These different kinds of knowledge must be brought together to fully use yet carefully conserve scarce resources. As important is the structuring of social life. The tribesmen must have a flexible social system that enables the individual household to operate alone when the environmental situation requires. This necessitates a pattern of independence and equality. The I Murrah live according to ancient traditions but life is not unchanging. In 1932 Saudi Arabia became a nation and intertribal raiding and warfare was brought to an end. Cole highlights the adaptability of the I Murrah as the desert became increasingly invaded by motor transport and oil rigs. He sees their experience as prototypical: man everywhere must attune his life to the requirements of his economy. In a place like the Arabian Desert these adjustments are most insistent. This work shows that even when these demands of the external world pervade behavior, life can remain rich and rewarding. Donald Powell Cole is professor emeritus in the Department of Sociology, Anthropology, Psychology and Egyptology at The American University in Cairo, Egypt. He is author or co-author of numerous works including Arabian Oasis City, The Transformation of Unayah and Bedouin Settlers and Holiday Makers: Egypt's Changing Northwest Coast. The Arabs and Arabia on the Eve of Islam F.E. Peters, 2017-09-29. This volume examines the background to the rise of Islam. The opening essays consider the broad context of nomad-sedentary relations in the Near East; thereafter the focus is on the Arabian peninsula and the history of the Arab peoples. The following papers set out the political and economic structures of the pre-Islamic period and are concerned to trace the evolution of religious beliefs in the area, looking in particular at the role of local traditions and the impact of Jewish and Christian influences. Adventures in Arabia Among the Bedouins, Druses, Whirling Dervishes, & Yezidee Devil Worshipers William Seabrook, 1927.

Bedouin Visual Leadership in the Middle East Amer Bitar, 2020-10-06. This book focuses on leadership as a visual discourse and explores the construction of this discourse within the context of Bedouin Arabia and the Middle East more broadly. In it the author considers business and organisational leadership from an aesthetic perspective and in the context of various geographical and historical settings. The book examines the work of a variety of artists and examines how public representations of business and political figures are used as a tool of leadership. Using a Foucauldian perspective the book explores the interconnected concepts of power and knowledge, examining how visual images are used in the Middle Eastern context for leaders to communicate with their followers and the public. The Bedouin business world provides a unique opportunity for the researcher to examine the interplay between culture, management and politics. The book will be of interest to academics working in the fields of aesthetics, leadership, management, culture and the Middle East more broadly. The
