

A detailed illustration of a white bird with a long, thick red beak, possibly a booby, standing on a sandy beach. The bird is wearing a red collar with a small bell. It is surrounded by coastal vegetation, including green and yellow leaves. In the background, there is a blue ocean, a blue sky with several birds in flight, and a rocky coastline. A large orange sign with a black border is positioned in the upper right, containing the title. The author's name is at the bottom.

Pelican Barbara Allen, 2019-07-15 With its distinctive comical walk large bill and association with the conservation movement the pelican has attained iconic status But as Barbara Allen reveals this graceful skimmer of ocean waves has a checkered history Originally classed as unclean in the King James Bible the legend of the compassionate pelican was later appropriated by Christianity to symbolize Christ's sacrifice This majestic bird gifted to British royalty in 1664 has been celebrated in art and literature from Shakespeare's King Lear to the writing of Edward Lear and is the holder of three Guinness World Records The pelican's anatomy has been copied for paper plane construction aircraft design and in 3D imaging and its resilience is as remarkable as its make up the pelican has rallied against threats of extinction habitat destruction and environmental disasters such as the Deepwater Horizon oil spill A must read book for all bird enthusiasts Barbara Allen's Pelican weaves together wildlife trivia historical tales and the latest research to provide an engaging many feathered account of this emblematic bird      Bush, City, Cyberspace John Foster, Ern Finniss, Maureen Nimmo, 2005-06-01 Aimed at academic professional and general readers Bush city cyberspace provides a snapshot of the state of Australian children's and adolescent literature in the early twenty first century and an insight into its history In doing so it promotes a sense of where Australian literature for young people may be going and captures a literary and critical mood with which readers in Australia and beyond will identify The title of the work is intended to capture the fact that the field has changed dramatically in the century and a half that Australian children's literature has existed from the bush myths and heroism that inform the past and the present through the recognition that the vast majority of authors and readers live in cities to the third wave of cyberliterature that incorporates multimedia hypertext weblinks and e books none of which lessens the enduring enthusiasm of practitioners and readers for books Bush city cyberspace is not meant to be an encyclopedic volume Rather well known recent and or award winning works have been emphasised with the addition of others where these help to illuminate particular points The book is similar in coverage and approach to Australian Children's Literature An Exploration of Genre and Theme written by the same three authors and published by the Centre for Information Studies in 1995 In the intervening period much has changed in the field notable examples including the blurring of the dividing line between quality and popular literature the blending of genres the rise of a truly indigenous literature the demise to a significant extent of Outbackery in fiction the acceptance of multiculturalism as the norm and the advent of the literature of cyberspace with new methods and the sheer speed of communication between writer and reader All these trends and others are reflected in this work
