The Latter Margin Bess Bulgin, 1979      Romanticism: Romanticism and the margins Michael O'Neill, Mark Sandy, 2006      Manolis Anagnostakis Vangelis Calotychos, 2012-04-19 The book reflects on the life and work of a significant poet public figure and influential commentator of the cultural social and political history of Greece post World War II Manolis Anagnostakis 1925 2005 It considers his oeuvre in relation to the work of his peers and to traditions of writing both Greek and non Greek as it challenges the assumptions and determinations of his critics The volume explores the author's sustained reflection on what it is poetry does if anything and how it goes about this at different historical moments It does so through the framework of his political and social perspectives as well as against principles of committed action above all to leftist ideas and movements For Anagnostakis is vitally important for thinking about the relation of politics to poetics and the complex and in some quarters contradictory relation of leftist politics and the travails of euro communism to poetry and literature This analysis therefore coincides with the larger questioning of the role for the Left post 1989 The volume focuses not only on the poet's canonical poetry up to 1971 but also on the period of his subsequent self imposed silence and his other meta poetic writings after that date Two of Anagnostakis's previously unavailable late collections and a posthumously published interview with the poet appear here in English translation for the very first time Coming but a few years after the poet's death in 2005 this rare book length study of a single Greek poet other than Cavafy features articles by leading critics from the American academy Like Anagnostakis's own work these contributions represent a diverse range of approaches and voices at turns essayistic impressionistic and creative and at others scholarly punctilious and critical      Shared Margins Samuli Schielke, Mukhtar Saad Shehata, 2021-07-05 Shared Margins tells of writers writing and literary milieus in Alexandria Egypt's second city It de centres cosmopolitan avant gardes and secular revolutionary aesthetics that have been intensively documented and studied since 2011 Instead it offers a fieldwork based account of various milieus and styles and their common grounds and lines of division Structured in two parts Shared Margins gives an account of literature as a social practice embedded in milieus that at once enable and limit literary imagination and of a life worldly experience of plurality in absence of pluralism that marks literary engagements with the intimate and social realities of Alexandria after 2011 Literary writing this book argues has marginality as an at once enabling and limiting condition It provides shared spaces of imaginary excess that may go beyond the taken for granted of a societal milieu and yet are never unlimited Literary imagination is part and parcel of such social conflicts and transformations its role being neither one of resistance against power nor of guidance towards norms but rather one of open ended complicity      Catalogue of the Persian Manuscripts in the British Museum Charles Rieu, 1881      The Princeton Encyclopedia of Poetry and Poetics Stephen Cushman, Clare Cavanagh, Jahan Ramazani, Paul Rouzer, 2012-08-26 The most important poetry reference for more than four decades now fully updated for the twenty first century Through three editions over more than four decades The Princeton Encyclopedia of Poetry and Poetics

Empire from the Margins Martin Jacobs, 2025-07-15 The writings of three early modern Jewish historians highlight the divided allegiances of a Jewish diaspora living in and between the Spanish and Ottoman empires In 1492 the year that marked the start of Spain's transatlantic expansion the Spanish monarchs expelled their Jewish subjects and triggered a mass Jewish migration to the lands of the Ottoman Empire But while the rise of these rival empires had tremendous impact on the Jewish population's geography the historical accounts of contemporary Jews have remained peripheral to the study of early modern imperialism In Empire from the Margins Martin Jacobs seeks to understand how the history of empires appears through the lens of marginalized communities and to explore how Jews responded to Spanish and Ottoman imperial expansion He approaches this history through the Hebrew chronicles of three sixteenth and seventeenth century Jewish authors Elijah Capsali of Crete Joseph ha Kohen of Genoa and Joseph Sambari of Cairo all lived in early modern hubs with global connections and in unusual detail for premodern Jewish historians they described how the Spanish and Ottoman empires redrew the political cultural and religious map of the Mediterranean region while simultaneously transforming the transatlantic world As Jews these writers belonged to an ethno religious minority within the Mediterranean basin where the Spanish and Ottoman empires were centered and from here they expressed marginalized views on the Spanish and Ottoman regimes At the same time these Jewish authors belonged to Jewish networks that transcended imperial boundaries and they voiced conflicting loyalties between different authorities and cultures And Jacobs shows that in writing about the Spanish and Ottoman expansion these authors also grappled with the Jews precarious position in their host societies and their own multilayered identities Their shifting positionalities illuminate the divided allegiances of a Jewish diaspora living in and between competing empires
