The Learning Society Revisited Essays:

The Learning Society Revisited Torsten Husén, 1986

Torsten Husén has brought together in this volume a collection of his own essays the topics of which reflect his long and distinguished career both as an academic and as a practical researcher The essays are grouped under six main themes on which he has worked over the years research and policy making educational reforms equality and meritocracy the impact of education on career international and comparative dimensions and present trends and future perspectives An underlying message running throughout the volume is the importance of examining educational problems from a wide social perspective rather than solely from the narrow confines of the classroom

Education in a Society uncertain of its Values Wolfgang

Brezinka, 2016-06-22 In recent decades the life circumstances of most people around the world have changed enormously We are again expecting scarcity and economic crisis the danger of war terrorism and environmental destruction However people's tendencies toward selfishness and the misuse of freedom uprooting dissoluteness and crime are also increasingly being seen as threats to society and individual citizens The decline of support giving religious worldview and moral traditions has given rise to great uncertainty about values Citizens increasingly experience this as a burden and are becoming more receptive to a reassessment More of us are seeking a new orientation Those responsible for children or youth require this with special urgency because uncertainty in value orientations also creates uncertainty in education Are there ways to escape this dilemma How can we achieve new clarity on the worldview and moral foundations of education To what ends should we direct education With what difficulties should we reckon What tasks must parents fulfil and which should be assigned to teachers These are the topics dealt with in this book It provides answers to the questions of parents teachers and other educators as well as to those of politicians economic leaders and spiritual counsellors It will serve to stimulate thought and contribute to achieving agreement on the central educational tasks of our time

International Handbook of

Lifelong Learning David N. Aspin, Judith Chapman, Michael Hatton, Yukiko Sawano, 2012-12-06 Recent changes in the world effected by the transformations of information technology globalisation and the move towards a knowledge economy over the last thirty years have been as radical and fundamental as the changes resulting from the invention of the wheel and the printing press We are now living in a new age in which the demands are so complex so multifarious and so rapidly changing that the only way in which we shall be able to survive them is by committing to a process of individual communal and global learning throughout the lifespan of all of us A number of international bodies and agencies have taken cognisance of these transformations and the demands they impose upon societies and communities of the twenty first century and have developed and articulated policies intended to enable all citizens of the world in the twenty first century to face these challenges It is now a declared policy of many governments and international agencies that the only vehicle for such preparation is education education education and that preparing for the knowledge economy and the learning society of the future has to be a lifelong undertaking an investment in the future that is not restricted merely to the domain of economic advancement but also to those of social inclusion and personal growth Realising this policy makers across the international arena are grappling with the need to move from systems that emphasise education and training to the radically more unworked construct of lifelong learning In this volume the editors and authors analyse criticise and rework the ideas principles and theories underpinning policies and programs of lifelong learning re interpreting them in the light of examples of best practice found in a range of educating institutions around the world We believe that students of educational change and community development will find it useful and helpful to have available in this volumesome of the most up to date thinking on the chief concepts theories and values of increasing policy interest in lifelong learning together with a review of some significant examples of the different forms focuses and nexuses of thought and practice on this topic All this enables us to offer some policy recommendations and practical suggestions as to ways forward in the endeavour to make lifelong learning a reality for all

Social Theory and Education Raymond Allen Morrow, Carlos Alberto Torres, 1995-03-09 This book summarizes and critiques theories of social and cultural reproduction as they relate to sociology of education

Creating a learning society? Gorard, Stephen, Rees, Gareth, 2002-05-22 Lifelong learning is a key government strategy both in the UK and internationally to promote economic growth and combat social exclusion This book presents a highly innovative study of participation in lifelong learning and the problems which need to be overcome if lifelong learning policies are to be successful It provides a systematic analysis based on innovative empirical research of the social and economic realities which actually determine patterns of participation in lifelong learning shows what the factors are that shape people's participation or their decision not to participate offers new insights into the processes of lifelong learning which have important implications for the development of more effective policies

Values Education for Citizens in the New Century Zijian Li, 2006 This book is a collection of papers by international experts in education on the theory and practice of values education in global contexts Contemporary examples include Australia the U K Hong Kong Macau and Thailand
