The Sunday-school World, 1900      The Teaching and History of Mathematics in the United States Florian Cajori, 1890      Chinese Philosophy on Teaching and Learning Xu Di, Hunter McEwan, 2016-03-01 Written over two and a half millennia ago the Xueji On Teaching and Learning is one of the oldest and most comprehensive works on educational philosophy and teaching methods as well as a consideration of the appropriate roles of teachers and students. The Xueji was included in the Liji On Ritual one of the Five Classics that became the heart of the educational system during China's imperial era and it contains the ritual protocols adopted by the Imperial Academy during the Han dynasty. Chinese Philosophy on Teaching and Learning provides a new translation of the Xueji along with essays exploring this work from both Western and Chinese perspectives. Contributors examine the roots of educational thought in classical Chinese philosophy outline similarities and differences with ideas rooted in classical Greek thought and explore what the Xueji can offer educators today.

Methodological Approaches to STEM Education Research Volume 5 Peta J. White, Russell Tytler, Joseph Paul Ferguson, John Cripps Clark, 2024-11-05 Education practitioners and researchers worldwide will benefit from engaging with this volume and book series which promotes critical consideration of and innovation in education research methodologies in the areas of science, mathematics, health and environmental education. Each of the nineteen chapters in Volume 5 presents an account of methodological principles and practices and many attend directly to global challenges. For example, chapters explore philosophical underpinnings of STEM and environmental education, links between learning and workplace practices in mathematics education, engagement in STEM through Vygotskian and queer theory perspectives, a braiding of methodologies including arts based and autoethnographic studies, the application of AI literature mapping, as well as contractual evaluation research. An important theme is climate change education explored through student agency, cosmetics waste and survey challenges as well as world cafe and socioscientific based methodologies. The book series is designed to raise the quality of methodological practice while considering the associated challenges that shape our educational research.

The Church School Journal, 1876      Bulletin - Bureau of Education United States. Bureau of Education, 1922      Circular of Information of the Bureau of Education, for United States. Office of Education, 1890      Resources in Education, 1982      Comparative Perspectives on Inquiry-Based Science Education Bevins, Stuart, Lehane, Louise, Booth, Josephine, 2019-03-15 The core practice of professional scientists is inquiry, often referred to as research. If educators are to prepare students for a role in the professional scientific and technological community, exposing them to inquiry-based learning is essential. Despite this inquiry-based teaching and learning, IBTL remains relatively rare, possibly due to barriers that teachers face in deploying it or to a lack of belief in the teaching community that inquiry-based learning is effective. Comparative Perspectives on Inquiry-Based Science Education examines stories and experiences from members of an international science education project that delivered learning resources based around guided inquiry for students to a wide range of schools in 12 different countries in order to identify key themes that can provide useful insights for student learning teacher support and policy formulation at the continental level The book provides case studies across these 12 different settings that enable readers to compare and contrast both practice and policy issues with their own contexts while accessing a cutting edge model of professional development It is designed for educators instructional designers administrators principals researchers policymakers practitioners and students seeking current and relevant research on international education and education strategies for science courses
