The author challenges the role of scientists and expertise in policy making as well as the idea of deliberative democracy The integrity of science politics and journalism is dissolving the author argues Market conditions are in play and as a result we have a market democracy The book presents evidence of this concept in areas such as biotechnology nanotechnologies radioactive waste management and global warming Furthermore branches of journalism are explored and found not to meet reasonable demands for transparency The idea of public participation in decision making having been launched as a way to restore trust has become just another area in the market where different processes of participation are being launched and promoted As an alternative the author proposes an awareness principle as an integral part of the representative political
