The Canon of American Legal Thought David Kennedy, William W. Fisher III, 2018-06-05 This anthology presents for the first time full texts of the twenty most important works of American legal thought since 1890 Drawing on a course the editors teach at Harvard Law School the book traces the rise and evolution of a distinctly American form of legal reasoning These are the articles that have made these authors from Oliver Wendell Holmes Jr to Ronald Coase from Ronald Dworkin to Catherine MacKinnon among the most recognized names in American legal history These authors proposed answers to the classic question What does it mean to think like a lawyer an American lawyer Their answers differed but taken together they form a powerful brief for the existence of a distinct and powerful style of reasoning and of rulership The legal mind is as often critical as constructive however and these texts form a canon of critical thinking a toolbox for resisting and unravelling the arguments of the best legal minds Each article is preceded by a short introduction highlighting the article's main ideas and situating it in the context of its author's broader intellectual projects the scholarly debates of his or her time and the reception the article received Law students and their teachers will benefit from seeing these classic writings in full in the context of their original development For lawyers the collection will take them back to their best days in law school All

Kimball,Daniel R. Coquillette,2020-05-26 A history of Harvard Law School in the twentieth century focusing on the school's precipitous decline prior to 1945 and its dramatic postwar resurgence amid national crises and internal discord By the late nineteenth century Harvard Law School had transformed legal education and become the preeminent professional school in the nation But in the early 1900s HLS came to the brink of financial failure and lagged its peers in scholarly innovation It also honed an aggressive intellectual culture famously described by Learned Hand In the universe of truth they lived by the sword They asked no quarter of absolutes and they gave none After World War II however HLS roared back In this magisterial study Bruce Kimball and Daniel Coquillette chronicle the school's near collapse and dramatic resurgence across the twentieth century The school's struggles resulted in part from a debilitating cycle of tuition dependence which deepened through the 1940s as well as the suicides of two deans and the dalliance of another with the Nazi regime HLS stubbornly resisted the admission of women Jews and African Americans and fell behind the trend toward legal realism But in the postwar years under Dean Erwin Griswold the school's resurgence began and Harvard Law would produce such major political and legal figures as Chief Justice John Roberts Justice Elena Kagan and President Barack Obama Even so the school faced severe crises arising from the civil rights movement the Vietnam War Critical Legal Studies and its failure to enroll and retain people of color and women including Justice Ruth Bader Ginsburg Based on hitherto unavailable sources including oral histories personal letters diaries and financial records The Intellectual Sword paints a compelling portrait of the law school widely considered the most influential in the world
