The Law Of Universal Supply:

Kant's Search for the Supreme Principle of Morality Samuel J. Kerstein,2002-05-02 At the core of Kant's ethics lies the claim that if there is a supreme principle of morality then it cannot be a principle based on utilitarianism or Aristotelian perfectionism or the Ten Commandments The only viable candidate for such a principle is the categorical imperative This book is the most detailed investigation of this claim It constructs a new criterial reading of Kant's derivation of one version of the categorical imperative the Formula of Universal Law This reading shows this derivation to be far more compelling than contemporary philosophers tend to believe It also reveals a novel approach to deriving another version of the categorical imperative the Formula of Humanity a principle widely considered to be the most attractive Kantian candidate for the supreme principle of morality This book will be important not just for Kant scholars but for a broad swathe of students of philosophy

Islamic Legal Theory Mashhood A.
