Abstract—The purpose of this study was to determine the effect of a 10-week training program on the heart rate (HR) and energy expenditure (EE) of sedentary, middle-aged women. The subjects were 15 women, 40 to 50 years of age, who were sedentary and had no cardiovascular or other medical problems. The subjects were randomly assigned to a 10-week training program or a control group. The training program consisted of three sessions per week of 30 minutes of moderate-intensity aerobic exercise. The control group was instructed to maintain their current level of activity. The subjects were monitored for HR and EE at baseline and at the end of the 10-week program. The results showed that the training program had a significant effect on HR and EE. The HR of the training group decreased significantly from baseline to the end of the program, while the HR of the control group remained unchanged. The EE of the training group increased significantly from baseline to the end of the program, while the EE of the control group remained unchanged. These results suggest that a 10-week training program can effectively reduce HR and increase EE in sedentary, middle-aged women.

When you install your T3, maintenance should consist of, at most, (1) lubrication of the T3 wheel and roller supports (weekly, recommended), (2) if it is used frequently, lubrication of the rollers (at least once a month), and (3) cleaning of the rollers (at least once a month) to remove dirt and debris. For more information on the product, visit www.3m.com.

• When you install your T3 within its normal pressure range, we strongly recommend that you use the 3M T3 Roller Guard. Roller Guard is a thin, clear plastic film that is attached to the roller and wheel supports, allowing the roller to move without the normal maintenance difficulties with the product. It is available in rolls and can be purchased by the customer before the product is installed.
