Ballard,Robert F. Cochran,Naomi H. Goodno,2015-06-18 Meaningful discussion about intercountry adoption the adoption of a child from one country by a family from another country necessitates an understanding of a complex range of issues These issues intersect at multiple levels and processes span geographic and political boundaries and emerge from radically different cultural beliefs and systems The result is a myriad of benefits and costs that are both global and deeply personal in scope This edited volume introduces this complexity an Historical and Multicultural Encyclopedia of Women's Reproductive Rights in the United States Judith A. Baer,2002-04-30 eproductive rights refers to a range of claims concerning whether when and how to have children. Beneath this clear statement lays the most contentious political legal and cultural issue in America today. Involving the self, the family and the State, women's reproductive rights generates much impassioned argument but painfully little agreement. Topics and authors take on diverse and often clashing positions highlighting this issue's complex and highly charged nature. Arranged alphabetically by topic, articles representing racial and ethnic groups' experiences figure prominently as do the effects of age, class, education, health, religion and sexual preference on childbearing and rearing practices in and out of wedlock. It also includes articles on laws, court cases, political attitudes, prominent activists and technological advances as they relate to reproductive rights. Entries are written by highly regarded scholars, are cross-referenced and conclude with suggested further readings. Designed to introduce and inform the reader to this extremely difficult topic, Baer's ecumenical approach exposes us to a variety of opinions from support for current abortion policies to the building movement for fetal rights. Only reasoned opinions supported by hard evidence are included and no attempt was made to mute the often incommensurable opinions expressed within. This book will be a valuable resource for students, scholars and any person interested in learning about the multiplicity of perspectives on this important issue that is at the heart of our current culture wars.

Doing Ethnography Charlene Elizabeth Miall, Dorothy Pawluch, William Shaffir, 2005. Doing Ethnography is an essential text for courses in ethnography, research methods, qualitative emphasis, applied sociology and related subjects across Canada. This unique volume first considers the merits of qualitative research, profiles interviewing strategies and discusses the relationships to respondents and how to write about social life. The second portion of Doing Ethnography contains three sections: constructing perspectives, constructing identities, as well as doing and relating. Case studies and original research are featured throughout. The editors, Dorothy Pawluch, William Shaffir and Charlene Miall emphasize the importance of studying social interaction. In truth, any question about society, big or small, is ultimately about people interacting with each other. Whether the issue is changing gender relationships, corporate deeds and misdeeds, class structures or the school performance of children from cultural minorities, it all comes down to one thing: people doing things together.

The Prodigal Father Mark A. Bryan, 1997. In The Prodigal Father, Mark Bryan addresses this important social issue by offering a proven program to help fathers assume a vital role in their children's lives. Through my work and my own experience as an absent father, I've come to realize that what we call deadbeat dads are actually broken-hearted dads, says Bryan. Living in shame and denial about the pain of their loss, even when they were the ones who decided to give up their kids, these men feel hopeless and overwhelmed at the thought of attempting a reunion. Mark Bryan knows the problems of men who are divorced and don't see their kids as often as they would like, as well as those of the men who have totally lost touch with their children He knows the guilt and shame they feel the pangs at holiday times the wrench when a father is alone and sees other fathers playing with their kids taking them to school waiting with them in the line at McDonald's He knows how fathers wonder how they got out of the picture how they became extraneous He also knows that kids miss their fathers as much as their fathers miss them He knows this because he is a reunited father himself and because he has reunited many fathers with their children through his Father Project workshops Bryan tells many of their stories and his own in this book In The Prodigal Father Bryan recounts in detail the steps he took that led finally to the close relationship that he and his son Scott now enjoy More recently working with small groups of men around the country Bryan developed an eight step program to lead men from estrangement to reunion Many men who never expected to see their children again now see them regularly participate in decisions in their day to day lives and enjoy the richness and joy only children can provide Bryan's carefully conceived plan helps men negotiate the sensitive and potentially explosive path back It includes Acknowledging the loss and the pain Taking steps to regain self respect and become the man you'd want to father your children Making amends to your child's mother Planning the meeting with your child Reuniting Recognizing the specific needs of your child at each age Establishing an ongoing relationship becoming close Embracing your child's extended family the stepfather and half sisters and brothers A special chapter is addressed to mothers urging them to help in the reunion process Bryan's message will bring hope and happiness not only to the men who find their way back but to their children so often silent about their deep grief over the separation and to the mothers long overburdened by the responsibilities of single parenthood Says Bryan I will be touring to more than twenty cities to get the message of Reunion for Fathers across Will you help me reach those millions of fathers and mothers whose distance keeps their children from knowing their fathers Will you help those 21 million children who never see their fathers live fuller lives and gain a love they so fervently need I am asking your help to bring this message to your audience For this is not just a book It is a mission
