Weinstein,1979 Traces the development of psychology including psychoanalysis behaviorism humanism and contemporary psychological research Individual Quality of Life Charles Richard Boddington Joyce,Hannah M. McGee,Ciaran A. O'Boyle,1999 The rubric Quality of Life first came to the explicit attention of the medical profession a little over thirty years ago Despite the undoubted fact that each one of us has his or her own Quality of Life be it good or bad there is still no general agreement about its definition or the manner in which it should be evaluated Although much has been written about quality of life this work has been largely concerned with population based studies especially in health policy health economics The importance of individual quality of life has been neglected in part because of a failure to define quality of life itself with sufficient care in part perhaps because of a belief that it is impossible to develop a meaningful method of measuring individual variables It is a fundamental belief of the editors of this book that the primary focus of quality of life is must continue to be the individual who alone can define it assess its changing personal significances The individual perspective is of vital importance not only to patients but to their doctors too is more more frequently proposed as the most meaningful measure of outcome in clinical research especially in non remitting or chronic conditions Workers who wish to consider wider aspects of influences on the illnesses suffered by individuals the health care that they receive will find much to stimulate them in the methods of documentation proposed in this book Those mainly concerned with population samples rather than individuals may also find the sensitive methods of investigation proposed here not only to be applicable to their own areas of interest but also rewarding in perhaps unexpected ways The Psychology Student Writer's Manual Jill Mackay Scott,Jill Scott,1999 Brief writing manual for use by psychology majors in research methods courses and other psychology course with a writing emphasis New Church Essays on Science, Philosophy and Religion ,1854
