Belk, 2018-09-05 How do people communicate their romantic feelings Gift giving is one way Giving and receiving of gifts is a characteristic of intimate relationships Gifts are a message a form of communication with a tangible material object about love affection or concern for the recipient The romantic gift evokes a multitude of intertwined meanings passion intimacy affection persuasion care celebration altruism and nostalgia They can also connote the negative images of obligation and reciprocity Romantic gift giving may be practiced at rituals during rites of passage or for casual occasions to affirm the continued importance of the romantic relationship We may even romanticize the giving of gifts to the self to nonhuman companions and to others we do not know personally If loving and giving are a practice then romantic gift giving is a practice of loving with intimate or would be intimate others This book addresses gift giving among consumers attempting to express and construct romantic love It lies at the intersection of consumption markets and culture In societies shaped by the globalizing neo liberal economic order increasing wealth disparity and a partially digitized social environment that they help to co construct it may be time to rethink romantic love Gift giving is a key arena to do so as gifts make love tangible and act as carriers of meaning as well as cultural symbols In gift giving the meanings of romance are renewed renegotiated and reconstructed Gifts Romance And Consumer Culture demonstrates a wide variety of scholarly work bearing on romantic gift giving using an interpretive consumer research perspective The book introduces critical studies by scholars in this unfolding and new interdisciplinary field Smart Change Art Markman, PhD, 2014-01-07 An insightful guide that shows how habits of behavior are formed and how we can transform bad habits into positive behaviors in ourselves and others Smart Change explores the psychological mechanisms that form and maintain habits in individuals and groups and offers real accessible and actionable advice for changing habits In an engaging narrative Markman covers a wide range of habits from individual behaviors like eating better and exercising regularly to work related behaviors such as learning effectively and influencing customers purchases He proposes that there are five effective tools to help individuals change behavior and to help people influence the habits of the people around them

Morality James Kellenberger, 2010-11-01 Male protagonists and their marital situation portrayed in Katherine Mansfield's "The Stranger" and "A Birthday" Heinrich Mario Nink, 2009-04-16 Examination Thesis from the year 2008 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Literature grade 2.0 University of Trier Anglistik course Oberseminar Mansfield language English abstract Many of Katherine Mansfield s stories deal with relationship friendship marriage and family life The male female relationship always plays a major role in her stories and is an ever returning motif throughout her works Nevertheless the ways they are presented are always different but the same The settings and the plot usually differ

but the problems of male female relationship such as the dominating male character always return Her own personal experience in her family background might be one reason for it Nevertheless she did not always focus on relationship problems she could also write perfectly about romances and romantic relationships as in The Singing Lesson Poison or Mr and Mrs Dove This might have portrayed her own longing for a romance The focus of the following discourse is set on the unhappy relationships she portrayed in her works It deals not only with the relationship itself but also with the male characters and how they change or do not change throughout the story The stories chosen are A Birthday and The Stranger The reason for only choosing two is the limited space for the discourse which makes it impossible to include a third story At the Bay for instance would have been another perfect example for this issue All of them represent alienation in a relationship and portray different reasons for this to happen In order to characterize the relationship not only the male protagonists will be highlighted but also the female characters of the stories At the end the differences and similarities between the male protagonists and their relationship will be shown and worked out The fact that this will be an own passage in the discourse will make the conclusion rather short since the comparison of the two characters and their relationship also summarizes the discourse
