Stories for survival Heather D. Mead,1996 The Female Tradition in Southern Literature Carol S. Manning,1993

This collection of critical essays examines the contributions to and influences on literature that have been made by Southern women writers

From publisher description Being Ugly Monica Carol Miller,2017-05-08 In the South one notion of being ugly implies inappropriate or coarse behavior that transgresses social norms of courtesy While popular stereotypes of the region often highlight southern belles as the epitome of feminine power women writers from the South frequently stray from this convention and invest their fiction with female protagonists described as ugly or chastised for behaving that way Through this divergence ugly can be a force for challenging the strictures of normative southern gender roles and marriage economies In Being Ugly Southern Women Writers and Social Rebellion Monica Carol Miller reveals how authors from Margaret Mitchell to Monique Truong employ ugly characters to upend the expectations of patriarchy and open up more possibilities for southern female identity Previous scholarship often conflates ugliness with such categories as the grotesque plain or abject but Miller disassociates these negative descriptors from a group of characters created by southern women writers Focusing on how such characters appear prone to rebellious and socially inappropriate behavior Miller argues that ugliness subverts assumptions about gender by identifying those who are unsuitable for the expected roles of marriage and motherhood As opposed to familiar courtship and marriage plots Miller locates in fiction by southern women writers an alternative genealogy the ugly plot This narrative tradition highlights female characters whose rebellion offers a space for re imagining alternative lives and households in opposition to the status quo Reading works by canonical writers like Zora Neale

Hurston Flannery O'Connor and Eudora Welty along with recent texts by contemporary authors like Helen Ellis Lee Smith and Jesmyn Ward Being Ugly offers an important new perspective on how southern women writers confront regressive ideologies that insist upon limited roles for women Contemporary Southern Women Fiction Writers Rosemary M. Canfield Reisman,Christopher J. Canfield,1994

Lists summarizes and evaluates relevant books and essays as well as significant reviews and interviews and in some cases useful newspaper stories

Downhome Susie Mee,1995-10

Downhome speaks through the fiction of these Southern women writers whether it is embraced or used ironically Combining 21 stories into seven sections Mee introduces each group of stories and then lets the authors reveal aspects of the South from their own female point of view Contributors include Eudora Welty Nora Zeale Hurston Doris Betts Elizabeth Cox and many others
