Entertainment and Production Mark Sonder,2004 Publisher Description The Management of Sport Bonnie L. Parkhouse,2001 This edition is tailored around the informational needs of the sport manager and benefits from new contributors in the specialty areas of organizational theory economics experiential learning human resources management and sport governance Neuromarketing in Sports Martin Fett,2012-05-29 Master s Thesis from the year 2011 in the subject Business economics Offline Marketing and Online Marketing grade 1 0 University of Lugano course Sponsorship and Partnership Management Corporate Communication language English abstract Until now economic theory has not systematically integrated the impact of emotions on brand perception Evidence from the evolving discipline of neuroscience suggests that decision making is dependent on emotional processing Interdisciplinary research under the label of neuromarketing arose The key idea of this approach is to employ recent neuroscientific methods in order to analyze economically relevant brain processes This thesis offers an overview of the current state of neuroeconomic research by defining the concept of neuromarketing explaining methods that are widely used and describing current studies in this new research area The study which was conducted within this master thesis finally provides guidance for future research Several studies found that there are no separated ways for cognition and emotion in a human being s brain Emotions are deeply connected with cognitive processing and thus even are a crucial part of human decision making Since more and more companies want to enhance their brands products and services with emotions they are trying to use this important precondition and are engaging in sports sponsorships because sports as such is considered the biggest and most emotional power in entertainment business Several authors claim that in addition there has rarely been coherent research for sponsorship in general and if at all then only regarding the awareness of the sponsoring brands Also companies are not really aware if they seize the high potential of their sponsorship activities About 21% of companies that apply sponsorship strategies into practice do not even conduct a controlling phase They are not measuring the achievement of their sponsorship objectives Hence they do not even know the success or failure of their strategies Does sponsorship in sports have significant effects at all Does it help to increase a brand's image Only explicit measuring is very common in controlling the effects of sponsorship activities The probands are being asked whether they remember one brand or another and how they rate it Too often however the results are biased by many wrong preconditions for example the Social Desirability Bias or that the sponsors only want to hear what they want to hear     Branding in Asia Paul Temporal,2000-02-10 Paul Temporal shows how the fundamental principles of brand building are transferable to the Asian environment A diverse collection of Asian caselets should convince us that the 21st century will see the emergence of more Asian regional and global megabrands Professor John A Quelch Dean London Business School Branding in Asia addresses an unusual situation in Asia how is it that a region which has such high brand appreciation produces few international brands of its own The author's analysis of actual case studies ranging from powerful global brands to local companies illustrates his points clearly This coupled with a sensitive understanding of the cultural differences in the region makes it an excellent reference for everyone working with brands Felix Herrnberger President BMW Asia Pte Ltd Paul Temporal succinctly dissects the often mystical qualities that make up a successful brand Too often Western insights models and case studies are applied arbitrarily across the globe it is so refreshing to see branding tackled from a purely Asian perspective An invaluable reference book and eminently readable the step by step style and volume of relevant cases and examples makes this a must have for any manager in Asia looking to embark on creating his own regional or global brand Ray Dempsey Area manager McCann Erickson South East Asia
