Dear [Mr./Mrs./Ms.] [Hiring Manager's Name],

I am pleased to be submitting my application for the XYZ Daily post of Sports Writer. My love of sports and my passion for writing make this the ideal chance for me. I am sure that I have the knowledge and expertise required to contribute significantly to your team.

I completed my Bachelor's degree in Journalism from the prestigious XYZ University, with exceptional grades. For the past three years, I have been writing about sports, and during that time, I have established a strong voice and a distinct viewpoint. Moreover, I have developed an in-depth knowledge of the field of sports journalism, which I apply to the creation of perceptive and captivating content. Sports plays an important role in society and its potential to unite people are two topics that especially fascinate me.

A few of my qualifications and credentials include –

- Interviewed famous athletes and coaches at Texas A&M.
- Covered a variety of sports, including football, softball, baseball, and track and field.
- Wrote many articles that went viral and were also published in publications.
- Recognized with the finest journalism award.

I left the publication after three years because there were other opportunities available. As a young reporter, I started working for one of the major sports publications in the nation. There, I had the opportunity to cover some of the most important sports events in the nation, such as FIFA, the Olympics, and the Tour de France.

I am now seeking an exciting opportunity, and I think this job is ideal for me. I have a passion for sports and am constantly seeking for new approaches to sharpen my writing abilities to become an improved sports journalist. I know that with your assistance, I will significantly contribute to your organization. I want to thank you for taking the time to look at my application. I will be glad to receive a response from you very soon.

Sincerely,
[Your Name]

A Sportswriter's Life Gerald Eskenazi, 2003 In 1959 Gerald Eskenazi dropped out of City College not for the first time and made his way to the New York Times That day the paper had two openings one in news and one in sports Eskenazi was offered either for thirty eight dollars a week He chose sports based on his image of the sports department as a cozier place than the news department Forty one years and more than eighty four hundred stories later New Yorkers know he made the right decision When Eskenazi started reporting sports journalism had a different look than it does today There was a camaraderie between the reporters and the players due in part to the reporters deference to these famous figures Unlike today journalists stayed out of the locker rooms and didn't ask questions about the players home lives or their feelings about matters other than the sports that they played In A Sportswriter's Life Eskenazi details how much sports and America have changed since then His anecdotes regarding famous and infamous sports figures from baseball great Joe DiMaggio to boxer Mike Tyson illustrate the transformation that American culture and journalism have undergone in the past fifty years Eskenazi gives a behind the scenes look into the journalistic techniques that go into crafting a story as well as the pitfalls reporters fall into There are cautionary tales of journalistic excess as well as moments of triumph such as the time Eskenazi got Joe Namath to open up to him by admitting he was a sportswriter who knew nothing about football Along the way Eskenazi discusses interviewing other reluctant subjects and writing under the intense pressure of a deadline A Sportswriter's Life is a revealing look at the people and events that were part of the history of sports from a perspective usually unavailable to the public Eskenazi's inside stories of sports are not always flattering but they are always amusing touching and revealing This entertaining volume will be enjoyed by anyone with an interest in reporting sports or just a good story

The history of African Americans in the news media is a relatively recent story of firsts. Consider Dorothy Gilliam who in 1961 became the first black woman reporter hired by The Washington Post or Bob Herbert who in 1993 became the first black columnist at The New York Times or even Mark Whitaker who in 1998 became the first black editor of one of America's three major newsweeklies Newsweek. These are just a few of the trailblazers who overcame obstacles to rise to the highest echelons of the media world. Prior to the 1960s however African Americans working for the predominantly white media were few and far between. After the subsiding of the dramatic civil rights demonstrations that shook most of America out of complacent acceptance of the status quo the hiring of African American news people slowed for a time before accelerating in the 1970s gaining real speed in the 1980s and 1990s. By the dawning of the new millennium African Americans in the news media had achieved a sort of critical mass. This two volume biographical encyclopedia chronicles the success stories and considerable strides made by over 240 African American media figures from newspapers magazines radio television and the Internet. The most influential and often groundbreaking reporters columnists editors publishers broadcasters and even talk show hosts are all included here. Each in depth biography discusses the individual's achievements and struggles along with more personal and career information. Numerous primary source documents including newspaper and magazine articles columns and radio and television transcripts give readers first hand accounts from the newsrooms. Unlike other reference works currently available this timely encyclopedia emphasizes those African Americans who are currently working in the news media.
