Reactions to Revolutions Ulrich Broich, 2007. The outbreak of revolution in Paris in 1789 forced Britain into a political and military conflict that had a profound impact on politics, economy, public discourse and cultural life well into the 19th century. The essays collected here examine the various responses to the revolution and the significant changes wrought within Britain by the events. Some essays discuss the ideological divisions within Britain and Ireland. Others take a closer look at the media and the debate on the press and reinvestigate responses to the revolution by prominent contemporaries such as William Godwin, Dugald Stewart and William Wordsworth.

Postcolonial Translocations Marga Munkelt, Markus Schmitz, Mark Stein, Silke Stroh, 2013. The sites from which postcolonial cultural articulations develop and the sites at which they are received have undergone profound transformations within the last decades. This book traces the accelerating emergence of cultural crossovers and overlaps in a global perspective and through a variety of disciplinary approaches. It starts from the premise that after the spatial turn, human action and cultural representations can no longer be grasped as firmly located in or clearly demarcated by territorial entities. The collection of essays investigates postcolonial articulations of various genres and media in their spatiality and locatedness while envisaging acts of location as dynamic cultural processes. It explores the ways in which critical spatial thinking can be made productive. Testing the uses and limitations of translocation as an open exploratory model for a critically spatialized postcolonial studies, it covers a wide range of cultural expressions from the anglophone world and beyond: literature, film, TV, photography and other forms of visual art, philosophy, historical memory and tourism. The extensive introductory chapter charts various facets of spatial thinking from a variety of disciplines and critically discusses their implications for postcolonial studies. The contributors' essays range from theoretical interventions into the critical routines of postcolonial criticism to case studies of specific cultural texts, objects and events reflecting temporal and spatial material and intellectual, physical and spiritual mobility. What emerges is a fascinating survey of the multiple directions postcolonial translocations can take in the future. This book is aimed at students and scholars of postcolonial literary and cultural studies, diaspora studies, migration studies, transnational studies, globalisation studies, critical space studies, urban studies, film studies, media studies, art history, philosophy, history and anthropology.

Radical Planes? 9/11 and Patterns of Continuity, 2016-09-07. Radical Planes 9/11 and Patterns of Continuity edited by Dunja M. Mohr and Birgit D. Wess explores the intersections between narrative disruption and continuity.

in post 9 11 narratives from an interdisciplinary transnational perspective foregrounding the transatlantic cultural memory of 9 11 Contesting the earlier notion of a cataclysm that has changed everything and critically reflecting on American exceptionalism the collection offers an inquiry into what has gone unchanged in terms of pre 9 11 post 9 11 and post post 9 11 issues and what silences persist How do literature and performative and visual arts negotiate this precarious balance of a pervasive discourse of change and emerging patterns of political ideological and cultural continuity
