Contact Zones Myra Rutherford,Katie Pickles,2011-11-01 Contact Zones locates Canadian women s history within colonial and imperial systems As both colonizer and colonized sometimes even simultaneously women were uniquely positioned at the axis of the colonial encounter the so called contact zone between Aboriginals and newcomers Some women were able to transgress the bounds of social expectation while others reluctantly conformed to them Aboriginal women such as E Pauline Johnson Bernice Loft and Ethel Brant Monture shaped identities for themselves in both worlds By recognizing the necessity to perform they enchanted and educated white audiences across Canada On the other side of the coin newcomers imposed increasing regulation on Aboriginal women s bodies Missionaries for example preached the virtues of Christian conjugalit over mixed race and polygamous marriages especially those that hadn t been ratified by the church The Department of Indian Affairs agents withheld treaty payments or removed the children of Aboriginal women who did not properly perform their duties as wives and mothers In short Aboriginal women were expected to consent to moral sexual and marital rules that white women were already beginning to contest Contact Zones draws upon a vast array of primary sources to provide insight into the ubiquity and persistence of colonial discourse and to demonstrate how it ultimately was an embodied experience Above all it shows how the colonial enterprise was about embodied contacts What bodies belonged inside the nation who were outsiders and who transgressed the rules these are the questions at the heart of this provocative book Jean Barman s chapter from Contact Zones Aboriginal Women on the Streets of Victoria Rethinking Transgressive Sexuality during the Colonial Encounter won

McPherson, 2005 In the second part of the book Holiday details the family and tribal teachings he has acquired over a long life He tells his grandparents stories of the Long Walk era discusses local attitudes about the land relates Navajo religious stories and recounts his training as a medicine man All of Holiday's experiences and teachings reflect the thoughts of a traditional practitioner who has found in life both beauty and lessons for future generations BOOK JACKET On the Cusp of Contact Jean Barman, 2020-03-28 The ways in which we can redress the past are many and varied writes Jean Barman and it is up to each of us to act as best we can The seventeen essays collected here originally published between 1996 and 2013 make a valuable contribution toward this laudable goal With a wide range of source material from archival and documentary sources to oral histories Barman pieces together stories of individuals and groups disadvantaged in white settler society because of their gender race and or social class Working to recognize past actors that have been underrepresented in mainstream histories Barman's focus is BC on the cusp of contact The essays in this collection include fascinating though largely forgotten life stories of the frontier that space between contact and settlement where for a brief moment anything seemed possible This volume featuring over thirty archival photographs and illustrations makes these important and very readable essays accessible to a broader audience for the first time Outing, 1894 The Navajo James F. Downs, 1984-01-01 With a blend of description and theory this classic case study by James F. Downs 1923 1999 focuses on the pastoral aspects of Nez Chii society and culture The tribe still holds to a pastoral herding ecology that has characterized some of the Navajo for at least 250 years Downs outlines the important themes of the culture including the importance of females the inviolability of the individual the prestige of age and the reciprocity principle and discusses in detail the relationships between the Nez Chii families and their sheep herds as well as their relationship to the dominant culture surrounding them Outing and the Wheelman, 1894 A bibliography of the Athapaskan languages Richard T.
