Tainted Souls And Painted Faces:

Tainted Souls and Painted Faces Amanda Anderson, 2018-03-15 Amanda Anderson here reconsiders the familiar figure of the fallen woman within the context of mid Victorian debates over the nature of selfhood gender and agency Tainted Souls and Painted Faces Amanda Anderson, 1989 Shakespeare Studies Leeds Barroll, 1999-11 Shakespeare Studies is an international volume published every year in hardcover containing more than three hundred pages of essays and studies by critics from both hemispheres Working Fictions Carolyn Lesjak, 2006 Reconceptualizing Victorian literary history Carolyn Lesjak argues that throughout the Victorian era fiction reflected a preoccupation with labor in relation to pleasure

Soft-Shed Kisses Małgorzata Łuczyńska-Holdys, 2013-07-26 The femme fatale appears with unceasing regularity in the texts of major poets of the nineteenth century She symbolises an intractable mystery a refusal to be defined and a fierce attempt to exist outside the established gender system Soft Shed Kisses Re visioning the Femme Fatale in English Poetry of the 19th Century interrogates the construction and use of the fatal woman motif in the poetry of canonical male writers of the times both Romantic and Victorian Subsequent chapters investigate a variety of poems by John Keats Percy Bysshe Shelley Alfred Tennyson Dante Gabriel Rossetti and Charles Algernon Swinburne in which the femme fatale surfaces as the most important character Close readings of poetry are enriched by an examination of the same motif in visual art set against the vivid cultural background of the Victorian era Liberalizing Contracts Anat Rosenberg, 2017-07-20 In Liberalizing Contracts Anat Rosenberg examines nineteenth century liberal thought in England as developed through and as it developed the concept of contract understood as the formal legal category of binding agreement and the relations and human practices at which it gestured most basically that of promise most broadly the capitalist market order She does so by placing canonical realist novels in conversation with legal historical knowledge about Victorian contracts Rosenberg argues that current understandings of the liberal effort in contracts need reconstructing from both ends of Henry Maine's famed aphorism which described a historical progress from status to contract On the side of contract historical accounts of its liberal content have been oscillating between atomism and social collective approaches missing out on forms of relationality in Victorian liberal conceptualizations of contracts which the book establishes in their complexity richness and wavering appeal On the side of status the expectation of a move from status has led to a split along the liberal radical fault line among those assessing liberalism's historical commitment to promote mobility and equality The split misses out on the possibility that liberalism functioned as a historical reinterpretation of statuses particularly gender and class rather than either an effort of their elimination or preservation As Rosenberg shows that reinterpretation effectively secured yet also altered gender and class hierarchies There is no teleology to such an account Other Mothers Ellen Bayuk Rosenman, Claudia C. Klaver, 2008 Other Mothers edited by Ellen Bayuk Rosenman and Claudia C Klaver offers a range of essays that open a conversation about Victorian motherhood as a wide ranging distinctive experience and idea In spite of its importance however it is one of the least studied aspects of the Victorian era subsumed under discussions of femininity and domesticity Other Mothers joins revisionist approaches to femininity that now characterize Victorian studies Its contents trace intersections among gender race and class question the power of separate spheres ideology and insist on the context specific nature of social roles The fifteen essays in this volume contribute to the fields of literary criticism history cultural studies and history BOOK JACKET
