Spotlight On War:

Playing for a Winner Brandon Isleib,2017-01-10 He never felt like a Hall of Famer You can't argue with championships If he was so good why were his teams so bad On talk shows and in sports bars statements like these are often made about both underrated and overrated players It's generally accepted that being in a bigger market or on a winning team can cause a player to be overrated while the opposite can leave them underrated Examining pennant races to show how much attention a team receives and which teams are getting the most attention provides a context to this familiar commentary This book studies the effects of the sports media spotlight and its absence on the fortunes of teams in pennant races and Hall of Fame inductees Along the way the author brings to light accomplished players most non fans have probably never heard of

In 2017 it will be Australia's turn to chair the Kimberley Process Certification Scheme KP an international organisation set up to regulate the trade in diamonds. Diamonds are a symbol of love purchased to celebrate marriage and it is therefore deeply ironic that the diamond trade has become linked with warfare and human rights violations committed in African producer countries such as Sierra Leone the Democratic Republic of Congo and more recently Zimbabwe and Angola. In their quest for diamonds or by using diamonds to purchase weapons armed groups in these countries have engaged in recruiting child soldiers amputating limbs and committing rape and murder. In response to the problem the international community non governmental organisations and key industry players such as De Beers combined forces to create the Kimberley Process in 2002. The KP uses an export certificate system to distinguish the legitimate rough diamond trade from so called blood diamonds which are also known as conflict diamonds. This book considers the extent to which the KP supported by other agencies at the international and national levels has been effective in achieving its mandate. In so doing it presents an original model derived from the domain of regulatory theory the Dual Networked Pyramid as a means of describing the operation of the system and suggesting possible improvements that might be made to it. Military Sociology Wilbur J. Scott, Karin Modesto De Angelis, David R. Segal, 2022-12-30. The goal is to afford readers a ready pathway into how sociologists and social scientists have thought about topics in the study of the military and war. What does the spectrum of such societally organized violence look like? How do societies raise and maintain formal militaries? What are variations in their social composition and in the profiles of civil military relations? How and why is military organization and war changing so dramatically in the 21st century? Students will come away with practical knowledge as well as a framework for thoughtful analysis of a subject that can seem mysterious or impenetrable. In addition
