Pawelski,D. J. Moores,2012-11-08 In much of the critical discourse of the seventies eighties and nineties scholars employed suspicion in order to reveal a given text s complicity with various undesirable ideologies and or psychopathologies Construed as such interpretive practice was often intended to demystify texts and authors by demonstrating in them the presence of false consciousness bourgeois values patriarchy orientalism heterosexism imperialist attitudes and or various neuroses complexes and lacks While it proved to be of vital importance in literary studies suspicious hermeneutics often compelled scholars to interpret eudaimonia or well being variously conceived in pathologized terms At the end of the twentieth century however literary scholars began to see the limitations of suspicion conceived primarily as the discernment of latent realities beneath manifest illusions In the last decade often termed the post theory era there was a radical shift in focus as scholars began to recognize the inapplicability of suspicion as a critical framework for discussions of eudaimonic experiences seeking out several alternative forms of critique most of which can be called despite their differences a hermeneutics of affirmation In such alternative reading strategies scholars were able to explore configurations of eudaimonia not by dismissing them as bad politics or psychopathology but in complex ways that have resulted in a new eudaimonic turn a trans disciplinary phenomenon that has also enriched several other disciplines The Eudaimonic Turn builds on such work offering a collection of essays intended to bolster the burgeoning critical framework in the fields of English Comparative Literature and Cultural Studies by stimulating discussions of well being in the post theory moment The volume consists of several examinations of literary and theoretical configurations of the following determinants of human subjectivity and the role these play in facilitating well being values race ethics morality aesthetics class ideology culture economics language gender spirituality sexuality nature and the body Many of the authors compelling refute negativity bias and pathologized interpretations of eudaimonic experiences or conceptual models as they appear in literary texts or critical theories Some authors examine the eudaimonic outcomes of suffering marginalization hybridity oppression and or tragedy while others analyze the positive effects of positive affect Still others analyze the aesthetic response and or the reading process in inquiries into the role of language use and its impact on well being or they explore the complexities of strength resilience and other positive character traits in the face of struggle suffering and othering     The Man of the Crowd Elisabeth Tonnard,2012     The Fall of the House of Usher and Other Writings Edgar Allan Poe,2003-03-27 This selection of Poe s critical writings short fiction and poetry demonstrates an intense interest in aesthetic issues and the astonishing power and imagination with which he probed the darkest corners of the human mind The Fall of the House of Usher describes the final hours of a family tormented by tragedy and the legacy of the past In the Tell Tale Heart a murderer s insane delusions threaten to betray him while stories such as The Pit and the Pendulum and the Cask of Amontillado explore extreme states of decadence fear and hate     Genre
