Target Organ Toxicity, Volume I Gerald M. Cohen, 2020-01-29 This two volume set provides essential information on the general principles of target organ toxicity Pharmacokinetics metabolic activation and key defense mechanisms excretion species variation and tissue specific biochemistry are explored comprehensively These general principles are then illustrated using specific examples of toxicity to different target organs and systems DNA modification and repair in tumor induction and specificity in tumor initiation are also examined Of primary interest to toxicologist pharmacologists biochemists and environmental toxicologists Enzymatic Basis of Detoxication Volume 1 William B. Jakoby, 2012-12-02 Enzymatic Basis of Detoxication Volume I focuses on the catalytic mechanisms and physiological expression of the enzymes that are involved in the detoxication of foreign compounds The book explores foreign compound metabolism at the level of what specific enzymes can do This book is organized into three sections and comprised of 17 chapters The discussion begins with an overview of detoxication and covers both catalytic and non catalytic removal of foreign substances along with the general properties of the enzymes that are active in detoxication The reader is then introduced to the physiological aspects of detoxication paying particular attention to the kinetic aspects of metabolism and elimination of foreign compounds in animals human genetic variation in detoxication enzymes and how such enzymes are induced The next section focuses on mixed function oxygenase systems and includes chapters on cytochrome P 450 and the detoxication reactions it catalyzes The book also considers other oxidation reduction systems with reference to alcohol dehydrogenase aldehyde reductase aldehyde oxidizing enzymes ketone reductases xanthine oxidase and aldehyde oxidase glutathione peroxidase and superoxide dismutases The final chapter is devoted to monoamine oxidase its properties substrate specificity inhibitors kinetics and mechanism and multiple forms Pharmacologists toxicologists and biochemists will find this book extremely helpful A Study of Enzymes, Volume II Stephen A. Kuby, 2024-12-20 This comprehensive monograph consists of two parts Volume I entitled Enzyme Catalysis Kinetics and Substrate Binding and Volume II entitled Mechanism of Enzyme Action Volume I focuses on several aspects of enzyme catalytic behavior their steady state and transient state kinetics and the thermodynamic properties of substrate binding Packed with figures tables schemes and photographs this volume contains over 1 000 references including references regarding enzymology s fascinating history This comprehensive book is of particular interest to enzymology students teachers and researchers Volume II presents selected cutting edge examples of techniques and approaches being pursued in biochemistry This up to date resource includes 11 chapters which illustrate important theoretical and practical aspects of enzyme mechanisms It also features selected examples in which today s most important techniques ideas and theories are used to elaborate on the intricate nature of enzyme action mechanisms This particular volume provides important information for both the novice and the seasoned investigator Handbook on the Toxicology of Metals: Volume I: General Considerations Gunnar F. Nordberg, Max Costa, 2021-11-30 Handbook on the Toxicology of Metals Fifth Edition Volume I General Considerations is the first volume of a two volume work that gives an overview and covers topics of general importance including reviews of various health effects of trace metals The book emphasizes toxic effects in humans along with discussions on the toxic effects of animals and biological systems in vitro when relevant The book has been systematically updated with the latest studies and advances in technology and contains several new chapters As a multidisciplinary resource that integrates both human and environmental toxicology the book is a comprehensive and valuable reference for toxicologists physicians pharmacologists and environmental scientists in the fields of environmental occupational and public health Contains peer reviewed chapters that deal with the effects of metallic elements and their compounds on biological systems Includes information on sources transport and the transformation of metals in the environment Covers the ecological effects of metals to provide a basis for better understanding of the potential for adverse effects on human health Provides critical information on the properties use biological monitoring dose response relationships diagnosis treatment and prevention of metallic elements and compounds Metabolism of Trace Metals in Man Vol. I (1984)

Owen M. Rennert, Chan Wai-Yee, 2017-11-22 A vast literature exists dealing with trace metals and a number of outstanding monographs deal with the biological biochemical or clinical effects of a specific trace metal or trace metals in general However newer aspects of trace metal research i e the developmental aspects and generic implications have not been systematically discussed in any existing texts The present two volumes will summarize the present status of research in these areas and serve as milestones for future development in these areas of trace metal research Processes and Control of Plant Senescence Y.Y. Leshem, A.H. Halevy, C. Frenkel, 2012-12-02 This monograph provides basic and empiric information underlying processes believed to be involved in the doubtless multifunctional plant senescence syndrome While essentially assuming a basic science approach the authors drawing on data obtained from many of the main laboratories and research centres involved in senescence research the world over and also on findings of the research groups they are associated with have described how principles of basic science have been applied to practical problems and have outlined the partial means presently available to man for achieving plant senescence control Moreover information is provided on current problems in the forefront of senescence research This approach will hopefully engender further enquiry and lead at least to partial solutions to some of the as yet unsolved problems The book will be an asset to the book shelves of students on advanced courses in agriculture biology and biochemistry as well as scientists and research workers university and agricultural research station libraries and horticulturalists Computational Epigenetics in Human Diseases, Cell Differentiation, and Cell Reprogramming, Volume I Jianzhong Su, Meng Zhou, Yongchun Zuo, Xiaotian Zhang, 2021-02-24 Programmed Cell Death, Volume I S. Estus, V. Rangnekar, M.P. Mattson, 2001 Apoptosis or programmed cell death is an adaptive form of cell death that plays a critical role in turnover of mitotic cells and various tissues in the adult including epithelial cells fibroblasts and various endocrine cells Programmed cell death also plays a major role in development in organizing the body plan and molding intricate cellular structures such as nerve cell circuits in the brain. Rapidly progressing research into the molecular and biochemical underpinnings of the programmed cell death process are revealing novel genetic programs and molecular interactions that coordinate a process that results in death and removal of cells without an immune response and in the absence of the adverse effects on neighboring cells. Programmed Cell Death Volume I critically details the molecular biochemical and cellular mechanisms of apoptosis. This volume covers programmed cell death in a variety of tissues and organ systems highlighting the interesting families of proteins involved in promoting or preventing apoptosis. These include the caspase and calpain families of proteases, Bcl 2 family members and inhibitors of apoptosis proteins. Each chapter is written by an internationally recognized expert in a particular aspect of programmed cell death. This book will provide the reader with a comprehensive understanding of the cascade of events leading from an apoptotic signal such as trophic factor withdrawal or increased oxidative stress to cell death. Importantly, this volume also covers signaling mechanisms designed to prevent apoptosis. Such anti-apoptotic signaling cascades involve neurotrophic factors and stress response pathways. Programmed Cell Death Volume I provides the molecular and cellular foundation for <http://www.elsevier.com/locate/isbn0444507302>. Programmed Cell Death Volume II, in which the roles of aberrant regulation of apoptosis in human diseases ranging from cancer to Alzheimer's disease are considered. Ukrainian Biochemistry, 1990. This volume in the Comprehensive Toxicology series demonstrates how the use of extremely powerful molecular and cell biology techniques has stimulated the growth of toxicology as a scientific discipline. The field of toxicology has evolved from its earlier days of in vivo and descriptive studies to focusing on mechanisms. Frequently, mechanisms require an examination at the cellular and molecular level. Molecular toxicology has opened the door to comprehending the basic mechanisms of how toxicants show their effects. The volume is a comprehensive integrated profile of the molecular effects of toxicants and the molecular mechanisms involved in producing cellular and tissue injury.
