Supports An Alternative To Mass Housing:

Supports N. J. Habraken, 1972      Supports N. J. Habraken, 2021-11-30 First translated in English ten years after its original Dutch publication in 1962 this book has inspired practitioners for generations It s proposal to distinguish the infill from the support what users can individually decide in a housing process from what users share has turned out to be feasible in practice The Natural Relation the interaction of people with their immediate environment and the central concept of the book is the result of that distinction It is essential to the well being of everyday environment regardless of function or available resources      Supports N. J. Habraken, Jonathan Teicher, Ben Valkenburg, 1999-01-01      Supports N.J. Habraken, 1972      Architecture and Participation Peter Blundell Jones, Doina Petrescu, Jeremy Till, 2013-07-04 Bringing together leading international practitioners and theorists in the field ranging from the 1960s pioneers of participation to some of the major contemporary figures in the field Architecture and Participation opens up the social and political aspects of our built environment and the way that the eventual users may shape it Divided into three sections looking at the politics histories and practices of participation the book gives both a broad theoretical background and more direct examples of participation in practice Respectively the book explores participation s broader context outlining key themes and including work from some seminal European figures and shows examples of how leading practitioners have put their ideas into action Illustrated throughout the authors present to students practitioners and policy makers an exploration of how a participative approach may lead to new spatial conditions as well as to new types of architectural practices and investigates the way that the user has been included in the design process      Housing for the Millions Koos Bosma, Dorine van Hoogstraten, Martijn Vos, 2000 Home represents a fundamental value in a person s life Although many factors pertaining to his housing situation are beyond the occupant s control he still attempts to create his own domestic domain the finite center of a world in which he is free to be himself As long ago as 1961 in his book Supports An alternative to mass housing John Habraken suggested a completely different approach to mass housing in the Netherlands In an effort to offer the occupant of a mass produced dwelling the opportunity to make a personal statement he introduced the concept of a separation of support and infill Habraken sees the support structure as the aspect of housing production that represents communal responsibility and the infill as the aspect that stands for individual control He formulated the support and infill concept to introduce variation and personal authority into millions of dwellings This alternative was to be put into practice by the Foundation for Architects Research SAR which made Habraken its first director The ambition of the SAR to radically change the production methods of mass housing led to concepts and rules of play that had repercussions on the entire building cycle from architectural design to product development All the achievements disappointments successes and failures involved in the realization of an alternative to traditional housing construction can be discovered in this book This is the first time that the intellectual heritage of the SAR has been brought together in book form and considered within a broader international perspective
