

The Hospice Movement

Sandol Stoddard

The Hospice Movement:

The Hospice Movement Sandol Stoddard, 1978 A bold departure Stoddard's first non-fiction work The Hospice Movement grew from her efforts to support a dying neighbor into an essential how-to book that helped to popularize hospice care in the United States Her research was both academic and experiential in the course of her extensive inquiry into the history and philosophy of hospice care the author worked as a volunteer with Dr Cicely Saunders in her London hospice In the end this landmark book changed the lives of millions of American families announcing the possibility of an alternative to Western medicine's assumption that death represented failure The book and its author subsequently received national recognition from the New York Times and the Washington Post as well as a lifetime achievement award from the National Hospice Association

Cicely Saunders - Founder of the Hospice Movement David Clark, 2002-09-19 Cicely Saunders is universally acclaimed as a pioneer of modern hospice care Trained initially in nursing and social work she qualified in medicine in 1958 and subsequently dedicated the whole of her professional life to improving the care of the dying and bereaved people Founding St Christopher's Hospice in London in 1967 she encouraged a radical new approach to end-of-life care combining attention to physical, social, emotional, and spiritual problems brilliantly captured in her concept of total pain Her ideas about clinical care, education, and research have been hugely influential leading to numerous prizes and awards in recognition of her humanitarian achievements In this book the sociologist and historian David Clark presents a selection of her vast correspondence together with his own commentary The letters of Cicely Saunders tell a remarkable story of vision, determination, and creativity They should be read by anyone interested in how we die in the modern world

The Hospice Movement Cathy Siebold, 1992 What had been intended as a full-fledged alternative to a system of care that seemed best suited to the interests of physicians and hospital staff, not the terminally ill, has for the most part been reduced to a mere extension of that system Cathy Siebold, a social worker and psychotherapist who has witnessed firsthand the evolution of hospice care since its modern incarnation in the 1960s, presents a balanced and objective analysis of the movement's accomplishments and failings in The Hospice Movement: Easing Death's Pains Using social movement theory to frame her discussion, Siebold traces the bell curve of growth, maturity, and decline that to a point has characterized the hospice movement

Hospice Care and Culture Teresa Chikako Maruyama, 2018-12-21 First published in 1999, Maruyama explores some significant difficulties and differences in bringing the Western hospice philosophy to the Japanese medical culture Whilst not giving any definite answers, this study determines what some of the critical questions that need to be considered in Japanese medicine as Maruyama argues without defining these questions to begin with, we cannot find appropriate solutions

Changing the Way We Die Fran Smith, 2013-10-28 There's a quiet revolution happening in the way we die More than 1.5 million Americans a year die in hospice care, nearly 44 percent of all deaths, and a vast industry has sprung up to meet the growing demand Once viewed as a New Age indulgence, hospice is now a 14 billion business and one of the most successful segments in health care Changing the Way We Die by award winning journalists Fran Smith and Sheila Himmel is the first book to take a broad penetrating look at the hospice landscape through gripping stories of real patients families and doctors as well as the corporate giants that increasingly own the market Changing the Way We Die is a vital resource for anyone who wants to be prepared to face life s most challenging and universal event You will learn Hospice use is soaring yet most people come too late to get the full benefits With the age tsunami it becomes even more critical for families and patients to choose end of life care wisely Hospice at its best is much more than a way to relieve the suffering of dying It is a way to live The hospice movement S. Stoddard,1976 Hospice Parker Rossman,1977 A Bit of Heaven for the Few? David

Clark,2005 Modern Hospice Design Ken Worpole,2009-05-13 There is a global public debate going on about care for the elderly and the dying and what is meant by good quality palliative care This book begins with the rise of the modern hospice movement begun in 1967 Today there are 8 500 modern hospice projects in 123 countries The hospice has become an iconic building for this new culture This is not a book about hospitals as such but about what lessons the hospice movement has for new ideas about buildings for healthcare across the world For architects and interior designers estate and facility managers involved in hospice design healthcare professionals hospital administrators and Heathcare Trust Boards

Cicely Saunders, Founder of the Modern Hospice Movement Shirley Du Boulay,1984 The founder of the St Christopher s Hospice and of the modern hospice movement Dame Cicely Saunders work transformed the management of pain and the care of the dying This updated biography explores her extraordinary life Cicely Saunders Shirley Du Boulay,Marianne Rankin,2007 The founder of the St Christopher s Hospice and of the modern hospice movement Dame Cicely Saunders work transformed the management of pain and the care of the dying This updated biography explores her extraordinary life

The Hospice Alternative Margaret Manning,1984 Narrative and Stories in Health Care Yasmin Gunaratnam,David Oliviere,2009-04-09 The use of narrative methods has a long history in palliative care pioneered by Dame Cicely Saunders founder of the modern hospice movement Narrative and Stories in Health Care provides a vibrant multidisciplinary examination of work with narrative and stories in contemporary health and social care with a focus on the care of people who are ill and dying It animates the academic literature with provocative real world examples from international contributors including palliative care service users and those working in the social and human sciences medicine theology and the creative arts Narrative and Stories in Health Care addresses and clarifies core issues What is a narrative What is a story What are some of the main methods and models that can be used and for what purposes What practical and ethical dilemmas can the methods entail in work with illness death and dying As well as highlighting the power of stories to create new possibilities the book also acknowledges the conceptual methodological and ethnical problems and challenges inherent in narrative work As the hospice and palliative care movement evolves to meet the challenges of 21st century health care this fascinating book highlights how narratives and stories can be attended to in ways that are productive ethical and caring The Hospice Movement in Britain Hedley Taylor,1983 Reflections on Palliative Care David Clark,Jane Seymour,1999 Palliative care seems set to continue its rapid development into the early years of the 21st century From its origins in the modern hospice movement the new multidisciplinary specialty of palliative care has expanded into a variety of settings Palliative care services are now being provided in the home in hospital and in nursing homes There are moves to extend palliative care beyond its traditional constituency of people with cancer Efforts are being made to provide a wide range of palliative therapies to patients at an early stage of their disease progression The evidence base of palliative care is growing with more research evaluation and audit along with specialist programmes of education Palliative care appears to be coming of age On the other hand numbers of challenges still exist Much service development has been unplanned and unregulated Palliative care providers must continue to adapt to changing patterns of commissioning and funding services The voluntary hospice movement may feel its values threatened by a new professionalism and policies which require its greater integration within mainstream services There are concerns about the re medicalization of palliative care about how an evidence based approach to practice can be developed and about the extent to which its methods are transferring across diseases and settings Beyond these preoccupations lie wider societal issues about the organization of death and dying in late modern culture To what extent have notions of death as a contemporary taboo been superseded How can we characterize the nature of suffering What factors are involved in the debate surrounding end of life care ethics and euthanasia David Clark and Jane Seymour drawing on a wide range of sources as well as their own empirical studies offer a set of reflections on the development of palliative care and its place within a wider social context Their book will be essential reading to any practitioner policy maker teacher or student involved in palliative care or concerned about death dying and life limiting illness Cicely Saunders David Clark,2018-05-16 Born at the end of World War One into a prosperous London family Cicely Saunders struggled at school before gaining entry to Oxford University to read Politics Philosophy and Economics As World War Two gained momentum she quit academic study to train as a nurse thereby igniting her lifelong interest in caring for others Following a back injury she became a medical social worker and then in her late 30s qualified as a physician By now her focus was on a hugely neglected area of modern health services the care of the dying When she opened the world's first modern hospice in 1967 a quiet revolution got underway Education research and clinical practice were combined in a model of total care for terminally ill patients and their families that quickly had a massive impact In Cicely Saunders A Life and Legacy David Clark draws on interviews correspondence and the publications of Cicely Saunders to tell the remarkable story of how she pursued her goals through the complexity of her personal life the skepticism of others and the pervasive influence of her religious faith When she died in 2005 her legacy was firmly established in the growing field of hospice and palliative care which had now gained global recognition The Hospice Glen Davidson,2014-03-18 Explains how to start a hospice discusses issues concerning their Administration And Considers Staff Stress Emotional

Support For mourners ethical problems and legal concerns Hospice Care on the International Scene Dame Cicely M. Saunders,1997 This volume explores how hospice care has been taking root throughout much of the world and illustrates how people are finding ways to shape hospice care to the particular needs and resources of their countries and communities The book begins with a hospice mission statement by Dame Cicely Saunders and is followed by an overview of the international hospice movement by Dr Jan Stemsward of the World Health Organization Included are reports from pioneering hospice programs in the Middle East in tropical Africa and Croatia The Hospice Movement Iris Ann Marshall,1980
