The Hound of Heaven at My Heels Robert G. Waldron, 1999 This book is a poignant and inspiring story about the great poet Francis Thompson Addicted to opium as a young man and reduced to homelessness on the streets of London the poet in a last effort to regenerate himself sends to the editor of a Catholic monthly samples of his writing Months pass before the editor reads the soiled manuscript he immediately perceives its genius and sets out to find the young poet but to no avail He publishes the poetry in the hopes that Thompson will contact him The Hound of Heaven at My Heels is a fictional reconstruction of the poet's lost diary it is a heart breaking and soul lifting account of his spiritual psychological and physical regeneration It is the story of a young man who finally finds his soul and his vocation Relentless Pursuit Ken Gire, 2012-06-15 Popular author uses stories from the Bible and his own life to teach about God's love for those who feel like outsiders Provided by publisher

The Resounding Soul Samuel Kimbriel, Eric Austin Lee, 2016-09-29 It is surely not coincidental that the term soul should mean not only the centre of a creature's life and consciousness but also a thing or action characterised by intense vivacity that bike's got soul It also seems far from coincidental that the same contemporary academic discussions that have largely cast aside the language of soul in their quest to define the character of human mental life should themselves be so bloodless or so lacking in soul The Resounding Soul arises from the opposite premise that the task of understanding human nature is bound up with the more critical task of learning to be fully human The papers collected here are derived from a conference in Oxford sponsored by the Centre of Theology and Philosophy and explore the often surprising landscape that emerges when human consciousness is approached from this angle Drawing upon literary philosophical theological historical and musical modes of analysis these essays remind the reader of the power of the ancient language of soul over against contemporary impulses to reduce fragment and overly determine human selfhood
