The House Without a Key Earl Biggers,2021-11-20 The House Without a Key is a novel that was written in 1925 by Earl Derr Biggers It is the first of the Charlie Chan mysteries The novel which takes place in 1920s Hawaii spends time acquainting the reader with the look and feel of the islands of that era from the standpoint of both white and non white inhabitants and describes social class structures and customs which have largely vanished in the 21st century The novel deals with the murder of a former member of Boston society who has lived in Hawaii for a number of years The novel is remarkable in two respects First although Chan is ostensibly the detective his role in the book is fairly small Second the novel's portrayal of the Chinese specifically Charlie Chan is forward looking for its era. The Bostonians find it hard to accept a Chinese detective on the case but the locals know him by reputation and show him respect. While some of the descriptions evince some of the stereotypes of the day, Chan is portrayed sympathetically as an equal to the whites that surround him. Indeed Charlie Chan's superior a white Captain of Detectives puts him on the case and trusts him completely. The House Without a Key was adapted for film twice as The House Without a Key in 1926 and as Charlie Chan's Greatest Case in 1933.
