The House With The Blind Glass Windows Women In Translation:

Norwegian Women's Writing 1850-1990 Janet Garton, 2000-12-01 Volume One in a new series this book covers Norwegian women's writing over the last 150 years setting literary developments against the background of the emergence and growth of the women's movement in Norway. The work is divided chronologically into three sections: the period up to 1913 when the universal suffrage was granted; the period from 1913 to 1960 a time of stagnation in the women's movement with little involvement in contemporary political, social and economic debates; and the period from 1960 to the present day which has seen an increasing participation of women in public life. Chapters on individual authors concentrate on the images of the women portrayed and investigate the conflicts behind the text, the tensions between the authors and their work, and the ambivalent feelings of women authors towards the act of writing. The book should be of interest to all those concerned with women's writing and with Scandinavian literature and culture. The series provides a survey country by country of women's writing from the beginnings of the major struggle for emancipation up to the present day. While the main emphasis is on literature, the social, political and cultural development of each country provides a context for understanding the position and preoccupations of women writers. Modern critical currents are also taken into account in relating feminist criticism to recent critical theory. Forthcoming volumes in this series include Women's Writing in Italy 1870-1990 and Swedish Women's Writing 1850-1990.

Culture and Customs of Norway Margaret Hayford O'Leary, 2010-09-16 This thorough introduction to modern day Norway and Norwegian culture shows the impact a small country can have on the world in terms of peace, building, environmental issues, technological innovation and more. Culture and Customs of Norway provides an up-to-date view of Norway showcasing a nation that is part of modern Europe yet zealously maintains its own culture and identity. Providing the most current information on a broad range of topics including cinema, literature, food, art, performing arts and architecture, the book also places modern day Norway in a historical context that makes it possible to understand how Norwegian culture came to be as it is today. Readers will discover a nation that is a fascinating juxtaposition of advanced technology, especially in such fields as oil production and climate, and some of the most spectacular natural beauty in the world. They will read about such famous writers, artists and composers as Henrik Ibsen, Edvard Munch and Edvard Grieg. And they will discover how Norway confronts the challenges of modern society without sacrificing its social democratic philosophy of social justice and shared responsibility both at home and globally.
