The History of al-Tabarī Vol. 13 Abū Ja‘far Muhammad ibn Jarīr al-Tabarī, 1989-07-28 This volume deals with the aftermath of the decisive battle at al Q disiyyah described in the previous volume First the conquest of southern Iraq is consolidated in rapid succession there follow the accounts of the battles at Burs and B bil Then in 16 637 the Muslim warriors make for the capital al Mada in ancient Ctesiphon which they conquer after a brief siege The Persian king seeks refuge in ulw n leaving behind most of his riches which are catalogued in great detail In the same year the Muslim army deals the withdrawing Persians another crushing blow at the battle of Jal l This volume is important in that it describes how the newly conquered territories are at first administered As the climate of al Mada in is felt to be unwholesome a new city is planned on the Tigris This is al K fah which is destined to play an important role as the capital city of the fourth caliph Al The planning of al K fah is set forth in considerable detail as is the building of its main features the citadel and the great congregational mosque After this interlude there follow accounts of the conquests of a string of towns in northern Mesopotamia which bring the Muslim fighters near the border with al Jazirah That region is conquered in 17 638 The history of its conquest is preceded by an account of the Byzantines siege of the city of im Also in this year Umar is recorded to have made a journey to Syria from which he is driven back by a sudden outbreak of the plague the so called Plague of Amaw s The scene then shifts back to southwestern Iran where a number of cities are taken one after another The Persian general al Hurmuz n is captured and sent to Medina After this the conquest of Egypt said to have taken place in 20 641 is recorded The volume concludes with a lengthy account of the crucial battle at Nihawand of 21 642 Here the Persians receive a blow that breaks their resistance definitively This volume abounds in sometimes very amusing anecdotes of man to man battles acts of heroism and bizarre at times even miraculous events The narrative style is fast moving and the recurrence of similar motifs in the historical expose lends them authenticity Many of the stories in this volume may have begun as yarns spun around campfires It is not difficult to visualize an early Islamic storyteller regaling his audience with accounts that ultimately found their way to the file on conquest history collected by Sayf ibn Umar al abar s main authority for this volume A discounted price is available when purchasing the entire 39 volume History of al abar set Contact SUNY Press for more information

conquests pose a considerable challenge to modern day historians The earliest historical written tradition emerges only after the second half of the eighth century over one hundred years removed from the events it contends to describe and was undoubtedly influenced by the motives and interpretations of its authors Indeed when speaking or writing about the past fact was not the only nor even the prime concern of Muslims of old The Arabic Historic Tradition and the Early Islamic Conquests presents a thorough examination of Arabic narratives on the early Islamic conquests It uncovers the influence of contemporary ideology examining recurring fictive motifs and evaluating the reasons behind their use Folklore and tribal traditions are evident throughout the narratives which aimed to promote individual tribal and regional fame through describing military prowess in the battles for the spread of Islam Common tropes are encountered across the materials which all serve a central theme the moral superiority of the Muslims which destined them to victory in God's plan Offering a key to the state of mind and agenda of early Muslim writers this critical reading of Arabic texts would be of great interest to students and scholars of early Arabic History and Literature as well as a general resource for Middle Eastern History

The Arab Conquests Justin Marozzi, 2021-05-13 The story of the seventh and eighth century Muslim conquests when armies inspired by the new religion of Islam burst out of Arabia to build the Islamic Empire This book delivers drama through sublime writing but mainly through marvellous images As sharp as the Arabian desert in the midday sun Gerard DeGroot The Times Books of the Year An excellent prelude to Marozzi's previous books Spectator Thoroughly good fun The narration moves swiftly but gracefully from episode to episode Sunday Times By the time of his death in 632 the Prophet Mohammed had united the feuding tribes of Arabia at the point of his sword In the decades that followed armies inspired by the new religion of Islam burst out of Arabia to subjugate the Levant southwest and Central Asia North Africa and the Iberian Peninsula The Arab Conquests lasted until 750 by which time several generations of marauding Muslim armies had carved out an Islamic empire soon to be centred on Baghdad which in size and population rivalled that of Rome at its zenith extending from the shores of the Atlantic in the west to the borders of China in the east In the process they had completely crushed one great empire the old empire of Byzantium and hollowed out another that of the Iranian Sasanids These conquests of the seventh and eighth centuries represent one of the greatest feats of arms in history Justin Marozzi charts their lightning progress across the Middle East and vast tracts of Asia and explains how an unknown and radically militant faith swept out of the Arabian desert to change the world for ever
