Citizenship Education in China Kerry J. Kennedy,Gregory Fairbrother,Zhenzhou Zhao,2013-10-15 There is a flourishing literature on citizenship education in China that is mostly unknown in the West Liberal political theorists often assume that only in democracy should citizens be prepared for their future responsibilities yet citizenship education in China has undergone a number of transformations as the political system has sought to cope with market reforms globalization and pressures both externally and within the country for broader political reforms Over the past decade Chinese scholars have been struggling for official recognition of citizenship education as a key component of the school curriculum in these changing contexts This book analyzes the citizenship education issues under discussion within China and aims to provide a voice for its scholars at a time when China's international role is becoming increasingly important

Education and Society in Hong Kong and Macau Mark Bray, Ramsey Koo, 1999 Hong Kong and Macau have much in common Yet in education for reasons which are analysed in this book they are very different The over arching theme of the book on continuity and change is particularly pertinent following the transition of the two societies to the post colonial era 廖正兴, 2000 The Poverty of Political Education in Hong Kong Secondary Schools Thomas Kwan-choi Tse, 1997 Hong Kong's Chinese History Curriculum from 1945 Flora L. F. Kan, 2007 This book examines how the aims content teaching learning and assessment of the Chinese history curriculum have evolved since 1945 It describes how Chinese history became an independent subject in secondary schools in Hong Kong despite the political sensitivity of the subject how it consolidated its status during the colonial period and how it has faced threats to its independence since the return of Hong Kong to China in 1997 Education and Society, 2003 Education and Political Transition Comparative Education Research Centre, 1997 廖正兴, 1998 廖正兴, 1998 Planning & Changing, 2010 Education, Globalization, and Social Change Hugh Lauder, 2006 Education is seen as central to economic competitiveness the reduction of poverty and inequality and environmental sustainability The editors have selected key writings that examine the social and economic limits and possibilities of education in addressing these fundamental problems This new reader establishes the field of sociology of education with a particular focus on papers that analyse the nature and extent of globalization in education A general introduction presents the key concepts in the sociology of education and outlines the major theories and debates especially in relation to globalization Each section is accompanied by a part opener explaining and contextualizing the readings within a larger educational and sociological context Changing Schools for Changing Times Kerry J. Kennedy, 2005 This book a statement of genuine concern on the state of the school curriculum in Hong Kong by a veteran educator forms a comprehensive account of current curriculum development implementation and interpretation Kennedy invites the reader to critically examine how local and global issues influence the way the Hong Kong curriculum has been constructed Against this theoretical background he maintains a clear practical focus on present policies of the educational authority and suggests a new curriculum in various fields This book sheds light on recent pressure for curriculum change and reform in Hong Kong offering fresh insights to those concerned with the state of education in both Hong Kong and cities around the world Education in the Market Place Yoko Yamato, 2003 This work presents a study of the international schools sector It highlights the significance of market forces and shows how the international schools have responded to Hong Kong's changing circumstances Innovating Schools Centre for Educational Research and Innovation, Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development, 1999 This volume presents key trends and policy challenges regarding schools for today and tomorrow from European traditions across to the different perspectives of the Asia Pacific region with a particular focus on Japan
