The Hours A Novel:

The Printed Book in Contemporary American Culture Heike Schaefer, Alexander Starre, 2019-08-28 This essay collection explores the cultural functions the printed book performs in the digital age It examines how the use of and attitude toward the book form have changed in light of the digital transformation of American media culture Situated at the crossroads of American studies literary studies book studies and media studies these essays show that a sustained focus on the medial and material formats of literary communication significantly expands our accustomed ways of doing cultural studies Addressing the changing roles of authors publishers and readers while covering multiple bookish formats such as artists books bestselling novels experimental fiction and zines this interdisciplinary volume introduces readers to current transatlantic conversations on the history and future of the printed book

Postmodern Time and Space in Fiction and Theory Michael Kane, 2020-01-14 Postmodern Time and Space in Fiction and Theory seeks to place the contemporary transformation of notions of space and time often attributed to the technologies we use in the context of the ongoing transformations of modernity Bringing together examples of modern and contemporary fiction from Defoe to DeLillo Frankenstein to Finnegans Wake and theoretical discussions of the modern and the post modern the author explores the legacy of modern transformations of space and time under five headings The Space of Nature The Space of the City Postmodern or Most Modern Time The Time and Space of the Work of Art in the Age of Digital Reproduction and Travel from Modernity to These five essays re examine the meanings of modernity and its aftermath in relation to the spaces and times of the natural the urban and the media environment

Singularity and Transnational Poetics Birgit Mara Kaiser, 2014-12-05 Over the past decade singularity has been a prominent term in a broad range of fields ranging from philosophy to literary and cultural studies to science and technology studies This volume intervenes in this broad discussion of singularity and its various implications proposing to explore the term for its specific potential in the study of literature Singularity and Transnational Poetics brings together scholars working in the fields of literary and cultural studies translation studies and transnational literatures The volume s central concern is to explore singularity as a conceptual tool for the comparative study of contemporary literatures beyond national frameworks and by implication as a tool to analyze human existence Contributors explore how singularity might move our conceptions of cultural identity from prevailing frameworks of self other toward the premises of being as singular plural Through a close reading of transnational literatures from Ireland Germany the Netherlands France and South Africa this collection offers a new approach to reading literature that will challenge a reader s established notions of identity individuality communicability and social cohesion
