The Book of Archives and Other Stories from the Mora Valley, New Mexico A. Gabriel Meléndez,2017-04-20 In the shadow of the Sangre de Cristo Mountains New Mexico s Mora Valley harbors the ghosts of history troubadours and soldiers Plains Indians and settlers families fleeing and finding home There more than a century ago villagers collect scraps of paper documenting the valley's history and their identity: military records, travelers' diaries, newspaper articles, poetry, and more, and bind them into a leather portfolio known as The Book of Archives. When a bomb blast during the Mexican American War scatters the book's contents to the wind, the memory of the accounts lives on instead in the minds of Mora residents. Poets and storytellers pass down the valley's traditions into the twentieth century from one generation to the next. In this pathbreaking dual language volume, author A. Gabriel Meléndez joins their ranks, continuing the retelling of Mora Valley's tales for our time. A native of Mora with el don de la palabra, the divine gift of words, Meléndez mines historical sources and his own imagination to reconstruct the valley's story, first in English and then in Spanish. He strings together humorous, tragic, and quotidian vignettes about historical events and unlikely occurrences, creating a vivid portrait of Mora both in cultural memory and present reality. Local gossip and family legend intertwine with Spanish language ballads and the poetry of New Mexico's most famous dueling troubadours, Old Man Vilmas and the poet García. Drawing on New Mexican storytelling tradition, Meléndez weaves a colorful dual language representation of a place whose irresistible characters and unforgettable events, and the inescapable truths they embody, still resonate today.

Grampa's Favorite Rock and Other Stories Roger M. Woodbury, 2013-03-27. A collection of serious and not so serious short stories from the coast of Maine. Some of these stories are intended to amuse, and some may touch a chord and bring a tear. But they are all intended to help pass some leisure time, perhaps while waiting for the kids to get home from school or the even the winter to pass into spring. No guarantee is given concerning the political correctness of any of these stories, but when reading, one should remember that some people actually enjoy satire. And for those who do not, the author humbly submits that perhaps those who can't laugh at history may be worrying about the wrong things.

Other Stories Robert Charles Wilson, 2013-03-29. In his first story collection, Robert Charles Wilson, one of the most distinguished SF authors of his generation, weaves a tapestry of tales set in and around the city of Toronto, a haunted, numinous Toronto of past, present, and future, buzzing with strangeness. In The Fields of Abraham, one of three stories written especially for this collection, an impoverished immigrant boy is trained in strange disciplines by a bookseller who is more than he seems. In The Perseids, winner of Canada's national SF award, love and amateur astronomy weave in and out of a terrifying tale of forced human evolution. In The Observers, an awkward young Canadian girl who sees extra-human presences has an extraordinary encounter in 1950s California with Edwin Hubble. In Plato's Mirror, a professional New Age charlatan has a genuine and terrible encounter with the extraordinary. And in the Hugo-nominated Divide by Infinity, an aging Toronto book lover finds himself becoming literally increasingly unlikely. Throughout are showcased Wilson's suppleness and storytelling strength, bravura, ideas, scientific rigor, and living, breathing human beings facing choices that matter in a universe stranger
